Gen. MacArthur Prepares To Return To United States

Lt. Gen. Ridgway Confers With Gen. MacArthur

Makes Brief Tokyo Visit And Flies Back To Korea

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)

TOKYO, April 12—Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway arrived in Tokyo late today, conferred privately with Gen. Douglas MacArthur whom he replaces as U.N. supreme commander, and then flew right back to Korea.

General Ridgway made no comment during his brief Tokyo stay on the dramatic turn of events that so suddenly placed him in top command in the Far East.

Following Ridgway's departure, Gen. MacArthur, also without comment, went to his downtown Tokyo headquarters—possibly for the last time. There he bade farewell to several persons.

First Reply

Earlier in the day a statement in behalf of MacArthur declared the deposed commander has "compiled meticulously with all directives" throughout his 50-year military career, now closed.

It was MacArthur's first reply to charges on which Mr. Truman based his action Wednesday in relieving the five-star general of all his commands.

Ridgway, named by the president to replace MacArthur as top American and UN commander in the Far East, was accompanied by Army Secretary Frank Pace, Jr., on the flight from Korea Thursday afternoon. Both motored straight from Tokyo's Haneda Airport to the latter's residence where the

Armed Forces Day Program Plans Progress

Making Arrangements For Celebration Here On Saturday, May 19

Observance of the second Armed Forces Day, celebration, which will take place throughout the nation on Saturday, May 19, promises to be an outstanding event, it was indicated by the reports of the general committee in charge of the local celebration, at a meeting held in The Castleton, Wednesday evening.

Attorney Walter Kieler, Navy veteran of World War II, has been designated as Senior Project Officer for New Castle, with Howard Lyons, also a Navy veteran of World War II, as general chairman; and Carbis A. Walker and Sid Lockley, as co-chairmen.

The program has the endorsement and support of the Greater New Castle Association, and the Veterans Council, along with all veterans posts in the city.

Armed Forces Day

Armed Forces Day, combines the celebration which were previously held by the Army and Navy, which were designed to recall the valor of the nation's fighting men. The slogan of the coming observance is "Defenders of Freedom," honoring the nation's fighting men, who are now battling in Korea to preserve our way of life.

The observance here will have a three-pronged objective. There will be a luncheon of all service and civic clubs during the week preceding May 19, special services in the churches, climaxed by a huge parade on Saturday evening, May 19, at 7 o'clock. It is also

Major Controversy Rages In Congress And Nation Over MacArthur Removal

By JAMES LEE
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 12.—A major controversy raged in congress and throughout the nation today over the dismissal of Gen. MacArthur and President Truman's insistence that he fired the hero of Bataan in line with efforts to prevent a third world war.

Republicans were determined to obtain a public hearing for the ousted general in or out of congress. Mr. Truman took his side of the historic story to the nation last night in a dramatic defense of U. S. foreign policy.

Followed Orders

In Tokyo MacArthur said through a spokesman that he had always followed orders meticulously "not only recently, but throughout his entire military service".

President Truman has been MacArthur's commander-in-chief for the past six years.

Also, it was learned in Tokyo that MacArthur would return to the United States in much less time than the three weeks that he said it would take him to be ready to appear before congress.

Men and women in every part of the nation, by telegraph and telephone, angrily protested MacArthur's dismissal. The Republican congressional committee reported thousands of messages urging impeachment proceedings against the president. Some Democrats admitted receiving similar demands.

Door Open For Negotiations

Meanwhile, Mr. Truman held the door open for a negotiated Korean

Ohio 'Numbers' Man Arrested

Can Found Welded Under Car Fender Holding Numbers Slips

In the arrest of Joseph D'Agostino, 38, by County Detective Howard C. Klebe on Wednesday afternoon, Klebe believes he has nabbed one of the "big shots" in the numbers game which is headed up in Youngstown and Girard.

D'Agostino, who lives on Potomac avenue, Youngstown, was arrested on route 224 about two miles west of New Castle at 3 o'clock Wednesday.

Under the left front fender of D'Agostino's car Klebe said a tin can was welded. Inside the can was a bundle of slips showing the "play" for the day out of the banks stations in New Castle, the officers report. The bundle showed $676.17 play. In D'Agostino's pockets was $720 in cash.

Also confiscated was a huge bundle of numbers slips. D'Agostino was taken before Justice of the Peace Everett Anderson of Neshannock township. He made a telephone call to Youngstown and in 35 minutes a bondsman was over with $1000 cash bond.

Later in the day the home of Mrs. Myrtle Dantzler, West Grant street, was visited by Klebe and Constable Theodore Altman, who assisted in the arrests. Numbers slips were found in Mrs. Dantzler's home and an information was laid against her before Alderman Anderson. She was not arrested Wednesday afternoon but her attorney told District Attorney Sherman K. Levine she would give bond today.

Screen Writer Admits He Was Red Party Member

WASHINGTON, April 12—(INS)—Screen writer Richard J. Collins admitted today he was a member of the Communist party in Hollywood for more than nine years and named writers Budd Schulberg and Ring Lardner, Jr., as fellow cell members.

Collins told the House Un-American Activities Committee that he paid dues and attended Communist party meetings from 1938 to 1947.

Moose To Open New Addition

Dedication To Take Place On Sunday

Dedication of the new $35,000 addition which has been built to the Moose Temple on South Mercer street will take place on Sunday, when two big initiation ceremonies will occur with the lodge and the ladies auxiliary, it was announced today by Governor Walter L. Ringer.

Sunday's program will be for members only, but later it is planned to have an open house when the public can inspect the appointments of the new addition.

Included in the new addition is a walk-in cooler, with an auto-

Says MacArthur 'Hounded Out' Of Commands

By FRANK CANNIFF

TAIPEI, Formosa, April 12. — (INS)—Rep. O. K. Armstrong, (R) of Mo., charged today that Gen. Douglas MacArthur was "hounded out" of his Far Eastern command.

The Congressman made his charge in the Formosan Chinese Nationalist capital of Taipei which he is visiting on a tour of the Orient.

Armstrong declared MacArthur was "hounded out of his command by the same elements whose bungling foreign policy has led to the steady march of Communism in eastern Europe, the loss of China and the war in Korea."

Glaring Injustice

He called President Truman's dismissal of MacArthur from his Far Eastern posts "one of the most glaring injustices of our time," and added:

"The British Socialist government now demands that Red China be admitted to the United Nations and Formosa be handed over to the aggressors.

"If that is part of the Truman-Acheson appeasement program, I shall call for a sweeping investigation of the whole Far Eastern policy, past and present, when I return to Washington.

"Somebody should tell them that World War III has already started. Its design is for the Soviet to carry it on piecemeal instead by all-out fighting."

Asserting that "MacArthur is right and the President, the Secretary of State and their appeasement clique are wrong," the Missouri Congressman said there are only two ways in which the "Korean phase of World War III" can be halted.

These are, he continued, "first by a military victory over the aggressors and second by appeasement."

Congress Storm In U.S. Proves Worry To Great Britain

LONDON, April 12 — (INS) — Britain watched anxiously today the gahering congressional storm in the United States over President Truman's dismissal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Fears that the reverbrations may cause a split in the U. S. worried Britons who felt that there was a possibility of unfortunate repercussions on the international scene.

Attacks by American Republicans on Britain as the behind-the-scenes power were noted and provoked new inspired statements that MacArthur's discharge came as a complete surprise to the British government.

The Times of London said that Mr. Truman faces a "long, bitter, dangerous" fight. The Manchester Guardian noted the President's predicament and said that "admiration in Europe does not help him much in Washington."

County Firemen Meet For Monthly Session Wednesday

Members of the Lawrence County Firemen's association had their monthly meeting Wednesday evening, gathering in the Liberty Grange hall as the guests of the Scott township department.

George Fisher of Neshannock township was elected delegate to the Pennsylvania State Firemen's convention in October, and a donation was made to the cancer fund.

Two bills which are currently before the state legislature were read and discussed and recommendations are to be made to Assemblyman W. H. McCullough by the association.

The grass fire menace was also discussed, and the departments took action to tighten the regulations pertaining to grass fires, which are causing the departments considerable annoyance, practically every department having been busy fighting grass fires last week.

Lunch was served by the Scott township men at the close of the meeting.

Engineers Plan New Section Of Route 18 Road

Highway Section Still Shifting Along Wampum Road

Engineers of the State Highway department are formulating plans for the relocation of the sunken portion of route 18, the New Castle-Wampum road, it was revealed today by Alfred A. Martin, Lawrence county highways superintendent.

Await End of Shifting

No definite plans will be made by the department until the highway stops shifting, it was learned from Mr. Martin. This morning the 200-foot section of road was still on the move as highway workmen erected barricades to keep visitors to the spot from falling into the gaping cavity left in the earth.

The large hole left in the center of the much traveled route ranges from 30 to 40 feet deep, and no sign of a let-up in sight, indicating that more of the terrain will vanish before it finally comes to a halt. Department engineers, conferring with Mr. Martin on the eventual steps to take, remarked that they had never seen anything like this before in their highway careers.

No Congestion

After the sinking and shifting process is over, plans will be made for the construction of a relocated section of road, in order to relieve the traffic situation in that area, the highway head promised. He reported that no congestion had resulted as yet, due to the widespread publicity given to the freak condition, and motorists are using detour routes provided.

However, the unusual scene is attracting hundreds of curious motorists, who are driving as close as possible to the scene and then walking to a vantage point where they can view the damage with

U.N. Approves Truman's Bid For End Of War

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., April 12.—President Truman's bid to Communist China to end the Korean War on U.N. terms met general approval today at Lake Success.

Diplomats who heard the president's speech to the nation last night said he stated the minimum terms on which the United States would seek an accord in the Far East.

The talk, they added, will spur U.N. efforts to achieve a settlement of the fighting in Korea.

President Truman said, first, that there should be a cessation of hostilities, second, concrete steps to insure that no new fighting would break out, and, third, adoption of measures to halt aggression.

A spokesman for the Arab-Asian bloc said that in removing General MacArthur and stating American terms, Mr. Truman created a favorable atmosphere for negotiations with Peiping.

British sources said that the three-point outline on peace aims in Korea given by the president is the forerunner of a 14-nation blueprint currently under discussion in Washington. The 14 nations are those with combat forces in Korea.

Diplomats at Lake Success also said that the emphasis on localizing the Korean War and assurances to China's Mao Tse-Tung of U.S. readiness to talk peace will go far toward restoring solidarity of Western U.N. members on Far East policy.

Senator Duff On Side Of Truman

NEW YORK, April 12.—(INS)—Sen. James H. Duff (R) Pa., rarely sees eye-to-eye with President Truman, but was on the Chief Executive's side today in the raging controversy over Gen. MacArthur's ouster.

Duff told the Brand Names Foundation dinner in New York that "something has to be done when a commander in the field publicly and repeatedly disagrees with the policies of the commander-in-chief and the chiefs of staff."

The former Pennsylvania governor said "supreme authority in the armed forces must reside somewhere, and under our constitution it resides with the commander-in-chief (the President)."

Truman Speech On Ouster Of MacArthur Under Fire

By WILLIAM THEIS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 12.—Congressional Republicans renewed their fire on President Truman's dismissal of General MacArthur today and termed his explanation a weak defense of a shabby action.

Democrats on Capitol Hill applauded the President's report to the nation, in which he said he fired MacArthur because "we are trying to prevent a world war—not to start one."

Senate GOP Leader Taft (R) Ohio, announced he would answer the President today. He is expected to speak from the Senate floor.

Quick Denunciation

But other GOP leaders were quick with their denunciations of the President's radio-television address.

Backed by a flood of telegrams and telephone calls showing overwhelming support for MacArthur and marked by demands for the President's impeachment, House GOP Leader Martin (R) Mass., said:

"Peace is the objective of all of us. We can have that peace without putting all Asia and most of the world in bondage to Communist Russia.

"Intelligent leadership in our conduct in Asia and Europe cannot only save both areas but at the same time avert a terrible war. A leadership that says we can abandon Asia, we can save a small slice of the lands in Europe, is only courting the most disastrous war in the world's history."

"Weak Defense"

Senate GOP Floor Leader Wherry (R) Neb., termed the speech a "weak defense."

Wherry said the President's speech made it apparent he is "pre-

Air Raid Alert Over Weekend To Be All-Out One

Plans were completed by the aircraft warning services here at a meeting held Wednesday night for an all-out air raid alert which will take place here Saturday and Sunday, April 14 and 15, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Dr. T. J. Fletcher, supervisor of aircraft warning for New Castle, announced.

Dr. Fletcher succeeds Fred M. Alexander as supervisor, Mr. Alexander having been named aircraft chief for all of Lawrence county. Mrs. Myrtle Blaisdell has been appointed chief observer for New Castle and assistant supervisor for New Castle.

The alert Sunday will be an all-out one between the hours of 2 and 4 p.m., it is stated.

U.S. Casualties In Korea Near 60,000

WASHINGTON, April 12—(INS)—The Defense Department today announced an increase of 846 in American casualties in Korea, bringing the total since the start of the war to 59,396.

The new total for the first time brought American deaths in Korea to more than 10,000.

The death toll now stands at 10,080, including 8,941 killed in action, 1,040 who have died of wounds and 99 who have died in Communist captivity.

In addition, 38,550 non-fatally wounded and 10,865 "missing" are listed.

Form MacArthur For President Club

DENVER, April 12. — (INS) — Denver businessmen W. L. Vernon and Chester C. Haddan have announced forming what they believe is Colorado's first MacArthur-for-President club, and intend to launch a drive to get the ousted general's name on the GOP presidential ticket.

Vernon and Haddan, who said they rounded up 100 members for the club yesterday after hearing MacArthur was fired by the President, declared they will ask the general to stop for a speech in Denver en route to Washington.

Vote On State Income Tax Is Delayed

HARRISBURG, April 12.—(INS)—Showdown balloting on the resurrected state income tax proposal was postponed today until next week by Republican leaders working overtime to assure a victory margin.

Both Houses have quit until Monday because of the absence of major legislation except the tax program.

Majority Leader Charles C. Smith indicated the once-defeated measure, which was returned to the work calendar by a vote of 119 to 91, will not be called for another vote until Wednesday at least.

Sawyer Hearing In Contempt Case Delayed To April 23

WASHINGTON, April 12. — (INS) — An appeals court today postponed until April 23 a hearing on contempt citations against Commerce Secretary Sawyer and nine others in the American President Steamship Lines case.

The court of appeals granted the government's request for a postponement after delivering a lengthy ruling pointing up the gravity of the case.

Appearing in court today along with Sawyer were all of the others cited for contempt last week except Undersecretary of Commerce Philip B. Fleming, who is ill.

Attorney General McGrath personally represented the government.

The court gave a detailed explanation of its reason for issuing the contempt citations last week.

It pointed out that the government, in the face of repeated court orders, refused to return control of the 68 million dollar American President Lines to the R. Stanley Dollar interests.

The court declared:

"We have the spectacle of a government which proclaims its adherence to law . . . endeavoring by every device to thwart and defeat the judgement of the courts."

The jurists said they would consider it a "most happy event" if the government would comply with the order before the hearing date.

Twenty Enemy Planes Downed Or Damaged

Greatest Jet-Plane Battle In History Occurs Over Korea

By LEE FERRERO
(I. N. S. War Correspondent)

TOKYO, April 13—(Friday)—American pilots destroyed or damaged 20 Russian-type jet fighters over northwest Korea Thursday in two roaring air battles involving at least 219 planes.

None of the participating American fighters was hit in history's greatest jet duels that whirled through the skies as two Chinese divisions made a sudden new retreat in the ground fighting on Korea's west-central front.

More than a fifth of the 97 Soviet-built MIG-15 jets put into the air by the Communists Thursday were shot down in flames or damaged by the deadly fire of the American jet pilots who emerged from the massive air fighting without a scratch.

Enemy Planes Downed

The day's first dogfight, involving 192 planes, ended with the blazing death of two of the enemy jets, two probably destroyed and 13 others damaged.

Later Thursday, two more MIGs were downed and a third damaged in the day's second encounter—a 15-minute battle in which 12 American Saberjets and 15 MIGs screamed and rolled over nearly six miles of vertical space—from 34,000 to 4,000 feet.

This raised the bag for the day to a record total of four MIGs knocked down, two probables and 14 damaged. Both engagements were fought high over northwest Korea's "MIG-alley"—the first one virtually on Manchuria's doorstep as the Reds vainly sought to save their greatest rail bridge spanning the Yalu river from a destructive Superfort assault.

Kill 500 Enemy Troops

Other American airmen, meanwhile, caught and killed 500 southward-moving enemy soldiers on the central front, and spotted additional Red armor in the eastern seaboard sector where they blasted two enemy tanks.

The war's greatest outbreak of sky fighting coincided with a puzzling new retreat by two full Chinese Communist divisions, total-

Four Thousand Telegrams Sent To White House

WASHINGTON, April 12—(INS)—The White House said today that it received about 4,000 telegrams yesterday on Gen. MacArthur's ouster and most of them expressed opposition to the action by President Truman.

White House aides said there has been no time for an analysis of the messages received following the President's radio-television address to the nation last night.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

City workmen are gradually getting a number of the city streets back into fair condition again. South Mill street, which suffered about the worst of the deal is being leveled out along with other routes in a number of sections.

Hotbed season is in order about the city. Numerous ingenious residents have constructed hotbeds for the raising of cabbage, tomato and other plants. They lament the fact that too little sunshine has been provided for the past while back to hasten the growth of the small plants.

Hundreds of curious spectators have been attracted to the New Castle - Wampum road section where the highway is slowly disappearing out of sight. Barricades have been erected to keep the watchers away from the pit. The hole has grown so large that many automobiles could easily be buried in the pit.

The West Pittsburg section in the vicinity of the Pennsylvania Power plant is quite a behive of activity at the present time. Erection of the new addition to the plant there is well under way. Steel for the new building is on the ground ready to be placed together by workmen.

Shunting of traffic from Route 18 over the downtown section to the Ellwood road will add considerably to the traffic problems in the business district. Traffic coming in over the Wilmington road, instead of making use of Atlantic avenue, will be moved over East Washington street as it heads for the Beaver Valley section.

Highland U.P. Elects Officers

Members of the Highland U. P. church assembled Wednesday evening for a congregational meeting in the church. Dr. J. M. Blackwood, pastor of Wurtemburg U. P. church, served as moderator of the ecclesiastical period and led the worship service. Mrs. S. Glenn McCracken, church organist, acted as accompanist for group singing.

J. Harold Vance, Dr. J. Porter Campbell, Joseph M. McMillin and Thomas I. Elliott were elected to the board of elders for terms of four years.

Mrs. A. R. Batten, Miss Elsie Grieder, Attorney John Henderson and Frank P. Chapin were chosen as members of the board of deacons, their terms being three years.

Yearly Business Session

R. L. Wallace served as chairman of the congregation during the business session, when yearly reports were given. Prayer was offered by S. G. Moore.

Dr. Wilbur E. Flannery and Carl Paisley were elected as trustees for three years, while Harry Helmick was chosen as a member of the same board to fill the unexpired term of one year of Dr. J. Porter Campbell.

The congregation authorized the trustees to purchase a parsonage. It was reported that over $4,000 has been pledged for the $7,500 campaign fund for Highland church projects, over $2,000 having been paid.

Miss Temoy McFate was named from the congregation as a member of the music committee. Gerald E. Nord, Miss Marcia Nord, Henry Brenneman and J. A. Hartman, Jr., were elected as representatives to the New Castle Council of Churches. Scott Lowery, new assistant superitntendent of the Bible school, was introduced.

Earlier in the evening a tureen dinner was enjoyed in the church dining room.

The meeting was closed with Mr. Nord offering prayer.

MAJOR CONTROVERSY RAGES IN CONGRESS

peace with the Chinese Communists. He declared last night in his worldwide broadcast defending U. S. foreign policy that a settlement can be negotiated on this three-point basis:

"One, the fighting must stop; two, concrete steps must be taken to insure that fighting will not break out again; three, there must be an end to aggression".

Mr. Truman asserted that MacArthur had to go because the policies he advocated would mean extension of the Korean conflict and a probable World War III.

Congressional reaction to the president's address followed party lines. Senate Minority Leader Wherry (R) Neb., called it "a weak defense of his shabby treatment of Gen. MacArthur". Sen. Connally (D) Tex., praised it as "a splendid outline of our objective in Korea".

Seek New Peace Effort

At Lake Success the president's speech met with general approval and the United Nations pressed for a new peacemaking attempt. In London British Foreign Secretary Morrison declared the United Kingdom is ready to negotiate a cease-fire in Korea.

A terrific battle shaped up in congress not only on the impeachment issue but on GOP insistence that MacArthur be invited to testify before a joint session. The general said Wednesday by phone from Tokyo that he would be "delighted and honored" to accept such an invitation.

Senate Majority Leader McFarland (D) Ariz., announced that he will fight the resolution to be brought up today by Minority Leader Wherry (R) Neb., calling for the bid to MacArthur.

Should Delay Action

McFarland said the resolution "should not be considered when we are all emotionally excited . . . it should be delayed for a few days".

Sen. Kerr (D) Okla., said he would agree only to MacArthur's appearance before the armed service committee "where he can be cross-examined". Kerr said he wanted no "hit-run appearance" in the "privileged sanctuary" of a joint session.

Senate GOP Policy Chairman Taft (R) Ohio, called a conference of Republican senators for next Monday to press for a joint senate-house investigation of the MacArthur dismissal and the entire Far East situation.

House Minority Leader Martin (R) Mass., said plans for impeachment proceedings will be held up "until we find out what the facts are". He added that "one or 50" government officials might be targets for impeachment action.

pared to write off his mission in Korea as a failure unless a miracle turns up and the Communists humbly appeal for peace." He called the President's address "depressing."

But Sen. Connally (D) Tex., foreign relations chairman, said the chief executive's address was a "splendid outline of our objectives in Korea."

Senate Democratic Leader McFarland (D) Ariz., said the President had confirmed his own views that America must avoid all-out war if at all possible. McFarland said this also was confirmed by "information I have obtained from the highest and most reliable military sources."

Along Party Lines

Other Congressional reaction generally was along party lines.

Even Democrats admitted that their flood of telegrams and telephone calls was strongly in favor of MacArthur as against the President.

The Republican Congressional committee made a survey of their members in Congress and reported that they had received 8,419 telegrams and phone calls yesterday "for" MacArthur and only 47 "against" him.

GOP members of the House and Senate also received 5,178 requests for Mr. Truman's impeachment.

The White House said it received a flood of communications and that they ran four or five to one against the President's decision removing MacArthur.

Shriners Plan Pilgrimage To Terre Haute, Ind.

Nobles of Syria Shrine are planning a visitation to Terre Haute, Ind., on Saturday, April 21, by invitation of Illustrious Potentate A. Roy Miles of Zorah Temple, AAONMS, and indications point to the fact that around 50 from the local district will attend, Noble L. L. Weitzel of this city, who is chairman of the pilgrimage, announced today.

In addition to enjoying the fine hospitality of the Terre Haute Nobles, than which there is none better, and witnessing the initiation ceremonies of a large class of candidates, the attraction will include taking in the doubleheader baseball game at Cleveland on Sunday with the St. Louis Browns, for those who desire it.

Reservations for the event must be made with Noble Weitzel by Saturday, April 14, it is stated.

Mission Auxiliary Hears Rev. Munn

Women's Auxiliary of the City Rescue Mission assembled Tuesday afternoon in the mission. Rev. Howard Munn, pastor of First United Brethren church, gave a fine talk on the subject, "Women of the Bible." Devotions were led by Mrs. J. H. Kalajainen.

Mrs. Walter Hindman presided at the business session. Rev. F. Dickson Marshall, superintendent, gave a report of March activities at the mission. The auxiliary will be responsible for a program in the mission on Tuesday, April 17, at 7:30 p. m. Mrs. Clare Lutz is chairman for the Mother's Day program.

A shower of canned goods for the mission was received at the meeting.

Mission Day will be observed on May 8, with a tea bag offering. The women sew that day, starting at 10 a. m., in the mission, a box luncheon being a feature of the noon hour.

ling more than 20,000 troops, on the western front inside North Korea.

A late field dispatch from that key sector said the two Red divisions "suddenly" withdrew northward Thursday after bitterly contesting the efforts of American and Turkish troops to establish two small bridgeheads across the Hatan river. The latter stream flows four to six miles north of Parallel 38.

American staff officers on the battlefield reported the "surprise" Chinese retreat, the dispatch said, and added that the United Nations troops now were "advancing without opposition" north of the Hantan.

planned to have an open air concert by the American Legion Band and a service band which is coming here.

In attendance at last night's meeting were members of the general committee, consisting of Chairman Howard Lyon, project officer Walter Kieler, and Edward DeCarbo, E. Gene Schweinsberg, Commander C. A. Walker, U.S.N.; Charles F. Smith, Alfred E. Walker, S-Sgt. Stephen Grbich, M-Sgt. H. O. Falls, U. S. Army; and Capt. William P. Stough.

The purpose of the celebration is to pay fitting tribute to the Armed Forces as an integral and interdependent part of the total material and spiritual power of America, now being mobilized; and to bring renewal of faith in our country's sacred heritage, the ideals of peace and freedom, to the preservation of which our power is dedicated.

MacArthur Coming to U.S.

MacArthur was expected to leave for his homeland considerably sooner than the three weeks he said it would take him to prepare for an appearance before Congress to state his case and have his "day in court."

Sitting in with Ridgway and MacArthur at the closed door embassy session was Maj. Gen. Doyle Hickey, chief of staff in Tokyo. Hickey had temorarily assumed MacArthur's duties while Ridgway is ready to take them over permanently.

Following the conference, Ridgway dropped out of view. Later, it was announced he had returned to Haneda Airport and taken off for Korea, presumably to wind up his affairs as commander of the U.S. Eighth Army and UN ground forces. He left at 7:30 p.m. (5:30 a.m. EST).

Also, Ridgway may have flown back to the Korean front for the double purpose of bidding his officers and men in the field farewell and of meeting his successor, Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet. The latter was en route to take over command of the Eighth Army.

After his talk with Ridgway, Gen. MacArthur went alone to his former headquarters in downtown Tokyo's Dai Ichi building to attend to some papers there.

their own eyes. A constant stream of motorists visited the area Wednesday afternoon and evening.

Railroad Tracks Closed

As the earth continues its shift the Pennsylvania railroad tracks east of the scene are slowly being moved aside. The first set of tracks, closest to the highway, were closed Wednesday morning, and a second set closed at noon. However, two other tracks several hundred feet away continue to serve the needs of the railroad and will be used until it is possible to repair the damaged section of the railroad.

Visitors to the damaged railroad section Wednesday afternoon could hear the crunching of the ballast along the tracks as the earth slowly moved. One set of tracks is already being covered by the earth.

Highway workmen are completing the erection of detour signs over routes 288 and 88 today, in order to provide a good detour route around the damaged highway section.

MOOSE TO OPEN NEW ADDITION

matic ice machine, room for storage, a billiard and game room and an all-electric kitchen.

Erie Man To Speak

The main grill room has also been remodeled and new fixtures and furniture have been installed. One feature is the decorations, a large mural eight by 20 feet adorning the wall.

Past Supreme Governor John J. Silk of Erie, Pa., will be the speaker and will address both the men's and women's meetings. High officials from surrounding states will also be in attendance.

Initiation of 150 new members will feature the meeting of the men's lodge, and 50 members by the Women of the Moose.

Initiation ceremonies are in charge of Governor W. L. Ringer and Mrs. Hulda Doerr, senior regent.

There will also be special entertainment during the afternoon and evening, with a fine floor show and dancing, which has been arranged by Dave Nathanson.

WOMAN'S CLUB GROUP AT HORCHLER HOME

The lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Horchler, Albert street extension, was the scene of an enjoyable get-together Wednesday afternoon for members of the conservation and garden department of the Woman's club, Mrs. Horchler extending cordial hospitality to the group.

Highlight of the afternoon was a talk and the showing of colored movie slides on "Conservation and Birds", by Lindley Vickers, naturalist, of Mill Creek Park, Youngstown, O. The engaging manner in which he presented the beauties of nature which he had captured with his camera met with a most appreciative audience. Mrs. H. E. Wiand was the program chairman for the afternoon.

Mrs. H. M. Leach, chairman of the department, presided over a short business meeting.

Refreshments were served from a lace-covered table, with a bouquet of snapdragons, tulips and jonquils in pastel colors providing a springtime note to the festive appointments. Mrs. C. N. Bruce, president of the Garden Council of Lawrence county, presided at the silver tea service. Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. W. H. Humphrey, Mrs. Frank Moorhead, Mrs. Robert H. McBurney, Mrs. John Ingham and Mrs. Charles McCullough.

The next meeting of the department will be held May 16, the place to be announced later.

King's Chapel Church Women

Mrs. J. F. Rentz, president of the W. S. C. S. of Erie Conference, will speak on Friday evening, April 13, at 8 o'clock in King's Chapel Methodist church. The program is for all women of the congregation. Women of the Young Married People's class will serve tea at the evening's close.

V.F.W. AUXILIARY INSTALLS OFFICERS

An installation of new officers highlighted the meeting of the V.F.W. Auxiliary, 315 when the group gathered in the post rooms, Wednesday evening.

A tureen dinner was enjoyed at 6:30 o'clock, with Mrs. Margaret Kennedy as chairman of the event. Spring flowers and gaily colored candles decorated the tables. Mrs. Rebecca Strong gave the invocation. Following the dinner a donation was given to the American Cancer Fund.

The installation of new officers was held, with the Tri-County Council president, Mrs. Carrie Shaffer, as installing officer. The past president of the auxiliary, Mrs. Isabel McKee, was installing conductress.

The new historian is Jessie Exposito; patriotic instructor, Ethel Bell; musician, Mae Hammond; color bearer, Florence Hoover; assistant conductress, Carrie Shaffer; and flag bearer, Mina Rodgers.

The past presidents pin was presented to Rilla Rishel by Mrs. Carrie Shaffer. Other lovely gifts were presented to Mrs. Rishel by the auxiliary and friends. The newly elected president, Ethel Stebbins, presented the installing officers with a gift.

Remarks were given by the past president, Rilla Rishel and Ethel Stebbins in regards to the work and activities of the group. The closing feature was a poem by Mrs. Carrie Shaffer, with plans made to meet Wednesday, April 25.

Degree Of Honor

Members of the Degree of Honor will assemble Friday evening, April 13, in the I.O.O.F. hall promptly at 7:30 o'clock. President, Mary Hawk, is in charge of the business.

A social period will be enjoyed, with Pearl Jones and Viola Nelson as hostesses.

MOONEY-CARANGIE EXCHANGE OF VOWS

At the altar of the Christ Methodist church where ferns, Scheffleri palms, white snapdragons and candelabras made a picturesque setting, the Rev. Thomas Caliandro united in marriage, Miss Dolores Jean Mooney and John Francis Carangie, on Saturday, April 7, at 7 p.m.

A host of friends and relatives witnessed the impressive double-ring ceremony. The splendid voice of Mrs. Jennie Mooney Phillips inspired as she sang, "Through the Years," "Because" and at the time of blessing with "The Lord's Prayer." Her daughter, Phyllis was her accompanist.

Escorted by her father, the bride made a lovely picture in her gown of all imported chantilly lace with side peplums that terminated to a cathedral train. The fitted bodice with a seed pearl-trimmed queen's neckline was set off with long fitted sleeves that tapered to points at the wrists. She wore a fingertip veil of imported silk illusion with a border of chantilly lace and appliques of satin. The veil fell from a bonnet of all lace and shirred satin. Her only jewelry was a seed-pearl necklace, a gift gift from the bride groom. She carried a white Bible centered with a white orchid with streamers of shattered carnations—and observed, too, the old tradition of "something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue."

Miss Catherine Carna, maid of honor, wore a maize gown of lace and net with full skirt trimmed with folds of satin and a wide sash. Lace mitts matched the lace of the gown. Her helmet bonnet was of net and satin.

Miss Angeline Carna and Shirley Banko, bridesmaids, wore sea-green gowns styled after the maid-of honor's. The helmets were identical and their bouquets were of red roses centered with yellow carnations. Little Carol Ann Mooney, attired in an all yellow taffeta gown of lace and net, made an atractive flower girl. She wore a halo of yellow shattered carnations.

Albert Carangie served his brother as best man, while James Carvella and Larry Mooney ushered.

Following the ceremony and congratulatory period, a reception was held at the Ecclesian club where 500 guests gathered. Music and dancing was in vogue for the evening, the music provided by Roger Pecano and his orchestra. Centered with a tiered wedding cake, the table was nicely appointed with flowers and its festive arrangement.

Mr. and Mrs. John Carangie have departed for their wedding trip and upon their return, will stay with the bride's parents.

Mrs. Carangie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mooney of Temple avenue and is employed in the office of the Haney Furniture company.

Mr. Carangie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Carangie of West Pittsburg and is affiliated with the Pittsburgh Table company.

PANTHERETTE CLUB TO HAVE PAL NIGHT

Plans for a "pal night" were made by Pantherette club members, Tuesday evening, when the group gathered in the club rooms. The event will be on Tuesday, April 24, in the Division street club, with Mrs. A. J. Capezio as general chairman.

On Tuesday evening, a delicious "cavata supper" was enjoyed by the members. Long tables were attractively arranged and preparing the meal were Mrs. Louis Gaspare, and Mrs. Charles "Tip" Richards, the latter a non-member.

Other hostesses were: Mrs. A. J. Capezio, Mrs Anthony Cooper, Mrs. Andrew Marapese, and Mrs. Joseph Panella.

Cards and other diversions were featuring during the evening.

Mrs. Capezio announced that a committee meeting for pal night is scheduled for Tuesday evening, April 17, at 8 p.m., in her home on Agnew street.

Those to assist in the arrangements include: Mrs. Colombo Clause, Mrs. Robert Palus, Mrs. Joseph Panella, Mrs. Albert Barletta, Mrs. John DiCarlo, Mrs. Michael Fornataro, Mrs. Nick Ambrose, Mrs. John Fuleno, Mrs. Betty DeAugustine, Mrs. James Fuleno, Mrs. James Mooney, Mrs. Rocco Litrenta, and Mrs. Anthony Fuleno.

Plans for the party will be completed at this special meeting.

CURRENT EVENTS '06 WILL MEET MONDAY

Mrs. T. W. Donaldson of 420 Hillcrest avenue will entertain members of the Current Events '06 at her home on Monday afternoon, April 16, at 2 o'clock.

Roll call will be answered with a state flower.

HOSPITAL AUXILIARY PARTY ON APRIL 18

An informal social affair has been scheduled by the New Castle Hospital Auxiliary for Wednesday evening, April 18, in the nurses home.

Mrs. William Strawbridge, president stated that tables of "500," bridge and contests will be in play. An entertaining evening has been planned by the committee in charge.

WIMODAUSIS HAS LUNCHEON EVENT

Yellow candles and bouquets of spring flowers accentuated the lovely table appointments when about 125 ladies of Wimodausis met for a 1 o'clock luncheon Wednesday in the main dining room of the Cathedral.

Hostesses for the luncheon were Mrs. F. P. Simpson, Mrs. Clarence Armstrong, Mrs. J. Zeigler and their committee.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Walter Gilmore, the vice-president, Mrs. M. M. Ingham, presented the program chairman, Mrs. Wilfred Thomas, who introduced Mrs. Ross Roseberger, guest soloist, who sang "Don't Talk to Me of Spring" and "A Modern Lullaby," accompanied by Mrs. Paul Welsh.

The speaker, Miss Mary Jane Nord, gave a helpful talk on "The Delinquency of New Castle."

The business meeting was opened with prayer and the flag salute. It was voted to give $200 to the Red Cross and $200 to the Cancer Fund.

Out-of-town guests for the afternoon were Mrs. R. C. Fagley and Mrs. F. G. Brown of Philadelphia.

Guest Day will be observed at the next club meeting on May 9, with hostesses to be annuonced. An interesting program has been arranged.

MRS. BERNICE HOUK GREETS G.L.G. CLASS

Members of the G.L.G. class of Grace Bible church of East New Castle held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Bernice Houk, Alborn avenue, Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Virginia DeChant, president of the class, opened the business meeting with a Scripture reading followed by prayer by Mrs. Ben Gardner. The business meeting was closed with prayer by Mrs. Ruth Watson.

Lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Bernice Houk and Mrs. Margaret Nye. The next meeting will be May 8.

Dinner Party

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gibson of the Youngstown road entertained Tuesday evening at a 6 o'clock dinner in honor of Mrs. John Rodrequez of Salina, Calif. An arrangement of spring flowers decorated the table, and Mrs. John Sweet and Mrs. George McConnell assisted the hostess in serving.

Mrs. Rodrequez left Wednesday for California after visiting friends and relatives in New Castle for the past ten months.

Y.L.B. Class To Meet

Section F, Y.L.B. class of the Third U.P. church, will meet Friday evening at 5:30 at the home of Mrs. E. J. Johnson, 1417 East Washington street, for a chop suey dinner.

MR. AND MRS. CEPRO NOW ON HONEYMOON

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cepro are honeymooning in Washington, D. C., and other points of interest and upon their return home will reside in their newly furnished apartment at 216 East Madison avenue.

They were married on Saturday, April 7, at 9 o'clock in St. Lucy's church, Rev. Fr. Sebastian Ippolito performing the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the former Dolores Jean Ezzo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ezzo of 208 East Madison avenue. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cepro of 209 First street.

Miss Rose Marchionda sang "Ave Maria" and several other lovely selections for the nuptial ceremony.

Escorted to the altar and given in marraige by her father, the young bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace with rows of net; the full skirt and long train were gathered to a fitted bodice with a Peter Pan collar and set off with long tapered sleeves. She wore a fingertip veil of imported silk illusion gathered to a bonnet of all over lace trimmed with white violets. She observed the "something old, new, borrowed and blue" tradition and carried a white prayer book trimmed with orchids and long streamers entwined with orchids.

Miss Antoinette DiGuilio as her maid of honor wore a Nile green taffeta gown with full scalioped skirt trimmed with two deep ruffles of net. The fitted bodice had a low round neckline trimmed with a scalloped fold of net. Her hat was the same shade of green with floral trim. The bridesmaids, the Misses Thelma Dantonio, Charlotta Forconi and Nancy Valleiy, wore gowns styled identically to the maid of honor's in maize with matching bonnets and mitts. They carried colonial bouquets.

A wedding breakfast was held at the home of the groom. A wedding dinner was held at a suburban dining room for the bridal party and immediate families, numbering 30. A reception was held in the evening at 7:30 in St. Margaret's hall, Liberty street, for 400 guests.

The bride and groom are both graduates of the New Castle high school, the bride with the class of 1950 and the groom with the class of 1948. Mr. Cepro is employed by the Pennsylvania railroad.

THE PALACE GUARDS WIN—OR DO THEY?

There must be merriment in Moscow today.

And somehow we imagine we can hear a sly British chuckle coming out of Number 10 Downing Street.

While in our own State Department Acheson and his boys are marking across the record of conspiracy against MacArthur "Mission Accomplished."

For after six years of sniping at General Douglas MacArthur they have his scalp. But his scalp dangles from the chandeliers like the sword of Damocles.

For Douglas MacArthur, America's number one soldier, if not indeed its number one citizen, has been fired ignominiously, fired just like a ditch digger might be fired by a straw boss.

Fired because he gave voice to the wonderings of millions of American minds, "If we have to fight the Communists why stop at some geographic line?"

MacArthur's crime was that he believed the lives of American boys should not be poured out on foreign lands unless there was some reason in logic at the end of the trail.

He believed that if the Communists were permitted to mass and group over the North Korean border, and strike again and again at the Americans then those nests of vipers should be wiped out. He believed the Chinese Nationalists on Formosa should be turned loose to fight against the Communists for their homeland. He believed it a futile thing to keep fighting within a restricted area in Korea unless a political peace could be consummated.

And so, because MacArthur is a great American, because his soldierly heart had a great sympathy for the fate of his men, because like Billy Mitchell he told the truth, he was fired.

This war, which Truman called a "police action," has 250,000 American men in the field. Our casualties are over 60,000.

Great Britain has 13,000 men in the field. Great Britain continues to sell to the Communists. Great Britain wants to hold on to Hong Kong. Britain, therefore, had a reason to undermine MacArthur, a reason rooted in its own national selfishness. Ergo, our American policy must be cut according to the British design and if Dean Acheson is to remain in good standing with the Downing Street brand of diplomacy then MacArthur has to be fired.

And he was.

Acheson engineered the deal which got us out of China. MacArthur protested against such diplomacy. The blunders of Acheson brought on the Korean War and MacArthur was called on once more to lead troops against an enemy.

Because he could not stomach such back alley diplomacy as we have been getting, because he was outraged at the further slaughter of American boys, he spoke his mind.

Here is the soldier who carved victory out of defeat in the Pacific, who went into Japan as a conquerer and became the Japanese friend through his wise administration.

Here is a man whose record of Americanism shines with a golden glow for over forty years. "The path of glory leads but to the grave."

As for President Truman's excuse for firing MacArthur—made last night—little can be said for it. The voice was the voice of Truman but the words were the words of Acheson.

A NOVELTY FOR CONGRESS

In taking up a bill reported out by the House Appropriations Committee in response to President Truman's request for an additional $843,000,000 to cover non-military defense spending, the House of Representatives has a novel experience. The bill would allow only $479,000,000 for these purposes.

Seldom, if ever, has the committee cut thus deeply a major administration appropriations bill. Usually it is lucky to end up whittling 10 per cent from a measure sent up by the White House—and this time it has reduced the figure requested by 43 per cent. A story was widely circulated in Washington during the late President Roosevelt's administration that a 10 per cent cut made by Congress in one of his requests for money surprised him no end. He had added more than that to the request in anticipation of a deeper slash.

An increasing reluctance to just go ahead and vote funds on demand had a great deal to do with the result. It is especially heartening to note that the committee took a dim view of the tendency on the part of government departments to expand because they are given defense jobs to handle. What they should do, according to the committee, is shuffle their staffs so that present personnel can handle these activities.

That's a novel idea. It probably doesn't sound very attractive to most government bureaucrats and some legislators may not be too enthusiastic over it. But an emergency as costly as this one is destined to be should produce some new and more efficient ways of doing things.

The Thirty-Eighth Parallel is rapidly becoming the most famous two-way thoroughfare in history.

A Michigan man found 25 pearls in his stew. That's one way of beating the high cost of dining out.

The Chinese, according to Factographs, invented sauerkraut. Wonder where it got that heavy German accent?

Winter, a weather prophet assures us, will soon be on its last legs. But what assurance do we have that winter doesn't resemble a centipede?

British Socialism Future At Stake

The stage is set for one of the most momentous parliamentary debates in modern history for its outcome well may decide the future of socialism in Great Britain.

Former prime minister and conservative leader Winston Churchill made it clear long ago that he would utilize Chancellor of the Exchequer Hugh Gaitskell's first budget as the springboard for a series of new attempts to overthrow the labor government.

He may be expected to challenge the government on one point after another.

He will call for night sessions in an effort to wear down the socialists and perhaps catch them napping, as he did one night recently on a vote concerning reduction in the cheese ration.

The government was defeated simply because labor did not have enough members on hand.

Similar Situation Possible

A similar situation could arise on a really important issue, however, in which circumstances Prime Minister Attlee would be compelled to resign. The cheese ration vote was not a major issue and the government whips did not consider it necessary to call the membership out in full strength.

Attlee is gambling for the life of socialism at a crucial period in Britain's history.

Since the end of the war, Britain has been struggling to put her economic house in order.

Employment is at top level. The British were able to suspend Marshall plan aid. The dollar situation has improved immeasurably.

But the rearmament made necessary by Soviet militarization threatens to unbalance economies once again and there is an ever-present danger of inflation. For this reason, Gaitskell has warned of a further reduction in the British standard of living.

Position Is Grave

The gravity of the laborite position under the heavy guns of persistent conservative attack was shown by the chancellor's announcement of the first major modification in the nationalized health set-up.

Gaitskell said that the government proposes to amend the health law to provide payment of one-half the actual costs by patients seeking dental care and spectacles under the medical plan. Both previously had been free of charge.

The labor high command knows full well that any tampering with the health plan is dangerous. It has been the butt of jokes in parliament and in the music-halls almost from its inception. But the idea of medical security "from cradle to the grave" is a pleasant one to millions who for years lacked proper care. Many hold to the theory that government medical subsidies now mean a far healthier Britain in future generations.

Churchill's attempts to unseat labor on budgetary grounds seem certain to revolve about the subject of governmental economies—or lack of them.

Will Charge Waste

He can charge that the poor people of Britain now must pay something for teeth and spectacles simply because there was waste and a lack of proper organization in handling finances.

He can refer to at least several occasions in the past on which the socialists have been compelled to admit financial failures and losses, such as the now famous scheme to grow peanuts for essential oils in East Africa and numerous wildcat strikes that have hampered industry.

Gaitskell and Attlee always will have the impelling counter-argument, however, that Soviet Russia and the Communists are mainly responsible for a recession at a time when Britain seemed to be reaching with success toward renewed prosperity and record production.

Churchill can say that defense preparations were laggard, inadequate and ineptly handled.

But the present rearmament is merely an affirmation of Churchill's own frequent warning that Britain must be prepared to fight for its life against Communism.

The government's position is not secure. But the conservative plan of attack does not for the moment at least appear to ensure a victory.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

WHEN CHILD LEARNS TO READ

Children beginning to read and some older children who are poor readers merely pronounce words, as they read. They get little or no meaning from these words. Although certain words which arouse familiar images and associations even when they stand alone, may not be so hard to recognize and pronounce after being seen or heard a number of times, some other words are easily forgotten after they have been seen or heard over and over again.

Of her boy, seven years old, a mother writes: "When he reads he always seems to stumble over the following words: when, where, why, this, that, then, there, what, were, went, want, was, and saw. How may I help him learn these words? Aside from the above words he reads quite well."

Little Meaning

Here is about the way I answered this mother. As you can see, the words which bother your little boy have practically no meaning when used alone but do make meaning when used in connection with other words.

It would seem that as groups of these words have identical parts that their similarities would render their recognition and memory easier. On the contrary, these very similarities lead to confusions. It may be that your child has been practiced on groups of these words which look most alike. Instead, such words are learned best when kept apart. Usually it is wasteful to have a child drill on words as mere words. He needs to get acquainted with them in connection with other words.

Well Illustrated Pages

Read a great deal to this lad from materials which strongly appeal to him, preferably from well illustrated pages. As he listens, he will get enjoyment from the meaning. Such words as you have listed will often be heard then in their normal connection. This familiarity will prove very helpful to the child as he himself reads meaningful phrases, sentences and paragraphs containing these words. The more interesting to this child the material he tries to read, the more readily will these troublesome words be read by him correctly in the context. Often when he reads to you ask him to read one or several sentences to himself and then tell you what they said.

Find for this boy books and children's magazines with many pictures, which make the reading interesting. Mail-order catalogs, some attractive advertisements and some of the newspaper comic strips can help this child get meaning from words, thanks to the story-pictures.

When you help this child practice at reading find materials for him to read which not only greatly interest him but which also have easy vocabulary.

They Say

President Truman, in his message relieving Gen. Douglas MacArthur of his command: "With deep regret I have concluded that General of the Army Douglas MacArthur is unable to give his wholehearted support to the policies of the United States government and the United Nations in matters pertaining to his official duties..."

Col. Sid Huff, who was the first to notify MacArthur of the news: "I have just left the general. He received the word of the presidential dismissal from his command magnificently... his soldierly qualities were never more pronounced."

Sen. Wherry (R) Neb.: "Mr. Truman has kept Acheson and fired MacArthur."

Movie Actor Sterling Hayden, commenting on his being a Communist party member from June to December of 1946: "It was the stupidest and most ignorant thing I ever had done in my life."

Just Folks

PLANTING TIME

Now give them back unto the ground.
"Dead as ashes!" did you say?
Well, next autumn they'll be found
Bright and beautiful and gay.

Some on barren soil may fall
As did others years ago.
Some superbly straight and tall,
Fit to bloom will surely grow.

Strew them as the winds would do.
Should unpackaged they remain
Life will stir in them anew.
Touched by springtime's sun and rain.

Here lie bud and leaf and stem.
"Dead as ashes!" did you say?
With the warm earth cover them.
Seeds that throb with life are they.

HAIR HAIR

If all the dollars spent on bald heads were put end to end it would sure be the long green.

A bald headed barber will sell you a bottle of hair tonic and never bat an eye.

A doctor with a shiny dome will listen to a long story about a sure cure hair restorer and never even grin.

Croesus would be a piker beside the man who could cure baldness. The Indians seemed to think that a scalp was a pretty important part.

Dad rubs dope on the thin spots. Mom says that she likes his kind face so much that she doesn't see the bald places, but you know Mom.

BLESSED ARE THE PEACE MAKERS!

Belongs In The Army

(By HENRY McLEMORE)

This column is being written by an old soldier—an old soldier whose locks would be gray, if he had any locks.

He still holds his reserve commission as PFC, heavy weapons platoon. When he walks down the street he is treated with the respect that his former position entitles him to. It is "Good morning, PFC McLemore," and "How are things with you today, PFC?" and "What is your opinion on the Korean situation, PFC?"

Little children gather at my knees, of which I have two (knees, that is), to ask me of my deeds when I charged up a hill, scared to death.

All of which is a preamble to what I have to say about Mickey Mantle and the Army of the United States. Mantle, if you don't read the sports pages, is a New York Yankee rookie, and about the hottest thing to hit baseball since Tyrus Raymond Cobb came up from Augusta, Ga., to set the big leagues on fire.

Belongs In The Army

He can run like a deer in a forest fire. On the bases he is a striped-tailed streak. From the outfield his arm is as stout as a wagon tongue, and when he fires that ball a runner on third better hustle, lest Mantle's throw cut him down by two steps.

At the plate he is a plumb terror. He has timing, he has the shoulders to back the timing, and he has the knack of out-thinking a pitcher.

The Yankees' pennant hopes ride on him. He is counted on to take up the slack of an aging DiMaggio. Joe carried the Yanks for years. Now that his legs are gone, and he is too full of rich living to live the way a ballplayer has to live, Mantle is being counted on to step in.

I, for one, hope he won't be available.

He belongs in the Army.

Should Have Khaki Suit

His suit should be a khaki one, not the white flannel of the Yanks at home or the dull gray of the on-the-road suit.

Mantle is 4-F, thus declared by his hometown draft board in Miami, Okla. He has, so the Miami medicos say, asteomyelitis, a bone ailment, a few inches above his left ankle. It is my guess that the Yankee owners would like to have some of their other athletes catch the same disease.

Mantle can hit the dirt in a slide with his ailment. His eyes are sharp enough to read a curve coming toward the plate.

And he isn't fit enough to fight for his country.

Something is wrong somewhere. He could be taught to typewrite, thus releasing a clerk for active duty.

He must be as strong as a Wave or a WAC or a Spar, or the other the members of our female forces. If worst comes to worst, give Mantle a skirt and a lipstick and let loose a girl who is stout enough to do a dangerous job.

Can Serve In Army

The man who can play 150 games can load a truck, or clean up a kitchen, or play a bugle, or sit at a recruiting desk.

Too many guys get by with doing too little for their country.

I have seen middle-aged men in combat who, if they lost their glasses, would have had to ask the first man they met, be he enemy or friend, where he was.

The Yanks are my favroite ball club. But I'd rather see the Stars and Stripes waving than see the baseball championship pennant waving over the stadium.

But let's call it quits. Mantle will have to live with himself. And no one knows a fellow like himself.

Hit .389, kid, but don't be proud in your heart.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Paul Talbot offers a little story that should be relayed at once to any communist that may be left in our midst. It seems that an American labor delegation was visiting the vast Skoda Works in Czechoslovakia. The Americans asked, "Who owns this great factory?" The guide replied proudly, "We the people own it. Not only that, but we get all the profits."

Then the Americans noticed three large and luxurious automobiles parked outside the gate and asked who owned them. The guide's face fell a little bit and he explained, "One is owned by the commissar of defense, one by the chairman of the workers' committee, and the other one by some big-shot from Russia who is down here checking up."

The following summer some of the Skoda labor leaders came to America for a reciprocal visit and were taken to see the Ford plant near Detroit. "Who owns this factory?" the visitors asked. Their host explained, "Mr Ford does. And he also gets the profits." Then the visitors saw the amazing sight of some 3,000 automobiles parked in large areas around the plant and asked in wonderment, "Who owns all those cars?" The American replied with a smile, "We, the employees, own those cars—and furthermore, we can drive them anywhere we wish in the evenings and over our two-day weekends."

Washington Calling

(By MARQUIS CHILDS)

Book Writing Now Epidemic

WASHINGTON, April 12.—Along with the cherry blossoms and the magnolia buds the literary life is busting out all over in this curious capital. Memoirs are popping up like belated crocuses and a kind of informal bourse has been set up in the Senate lobby to bid on the revelations of some of the more telegenic senators.

It is wonderful for the literary agent, the ghost writer, the publisher and allied trades. And since official information is one of the scarce commodities in this otherwise inflated town, the public may learn something more about what is going on.

Chairman Estes Kefauver of the Crime committee is telling all in a book that is being serialized in part. When he could have found time to write it is a minor mystery. The Kefauver stock is strong on the literary bourse.

Also Signing Up For Book

Another member of that committee, Senator Charles Tobey, the New Hampshire prophet, is also signing up for a book. He will write in the tradition of the extemporaneous speeches with which he punctuated the television hearings, pointing the way to a moral and spiritual rebirth for America in the rockbound, homespun tradition of his hearth and home.

The military, as is understandable in this season of crisis and conflict, dominates in the literary field, too. The big gun is the personal story of General Omar N. Bradley. That will come out in book form next month and meanwhile is appearing serially.

One may be sure that with his unflinching honesty Bradley will tell the story as straight as possible. That will include the account of the general's difficulties with the temperamental British commander, Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery. Bradley's friends say that this relationship is described in strict military terms, based on orders and communiques that are a matter of record and military men, both British and America, with background knowledge will have no cause to complain.

May Exploit Monty

There is the probability, however, that seeming aspersions on the mercurial Monty will be exploited by British politicians at a moment when relations between the two countries are not of the happiest. It might well serve the purpose of the Conservatives who have been hitting hard at the Labor government for sanctioning American admirals and American generals in key positions in the North Atlantic defense command.

If there is real hope of a Japanese peace treaty by the end of this year, then the way may be opened for another and certainly spectacular military memoir. General Douglas MacArthur, who in his dash and drama bears some resemblance to Field Marshal Montgomery, has not told his story of World War II and its aftermath. This would be perhaps the biggest literary fish of all if MacArthur would undertake to tell in his own purple style the story of his extraordinary career. MacArthur has on his staff in Tokyo his own historians who are preparing a history of the Pacific war from the lofty MacArthur perspective. This history almost certainly will be at variance in many details with that now being published in a series of volumes by Samuel Eliot Morison who is writing of the conflict in the Pacific from the Navy viewpoint.

One By Hoffman

In quite another vein is the book soon to be published by Paul Hoffman who did such a valiant and successful job supervising the spending of Marshall Plan billions. The title of Hoffman's book is "Peace Can Be Won," which has a strange and welcome sound in this era of violent alarms and excursions. Hoffman is now head of the Ford Foundation, supervising the spending not of billions but of hundreds of millions out of that extraordinary accumulation of private dollars.

For sheer readability and suspense it is possible that the top literary prize in the public writing sweepstakes may go when all the returns are in to J. Edgar Hoover, head of the FBI. He is reported to have agreed to write for the Reader's Digest a series of three pieces under the provocative title, "The Crime of the Century." It will tell far more than has been disclosed thus far about the espionage committed by the two Rosenbergs, Julius and Ethel, now under sentence of death, and their co-conspirator, Morton Sobell. Hoover has spine-chilling details of this fearful crime that has for the first time in American history drawn the death sentence for espionage from a civilian court.

President Truman last week smarted from the work of memoirists. One was Jonathan Daniels, North Carolina publisher and Democratic National committeeman, who stoutly defended his right to report the President's views on how to reform Congress. The other was John Hersey who also reported a presidential conversation in an intimate profile.

But the President may have his revenge and in a big way. Publishers are now dangling offers before him on the assumption that he will leave the White House in January of 1953 and can then—for a handsome sum—tell his own story. That sound you hear along the Potomac is the fury of many typewriters churning late into the night.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Where are all those shortages we hear so much about?

Whenever you complain about high prices the storekeeper or his clerk tells you "it's on account of the shortages."

In a New York newspaper appears a two-page advertisement. Since I am not supposed to give free advertising to anybody, I can't tell you the advertiser's name.

But I can give you a hint. It is one of New York's largest department stores. Its name starts with a "G," and it is the one that doesn't tell "M." You may remember it from the movie Miracle on Thirty-Fourth Street."

In letters more than two inches high, the heading of the ad reads: "SHORTAGES? MALARKEY"

Then the subhead: "G - - - lets the cat out of the bag. It's better to sell stuff than store it away."

Now comes the text. This is how it begins:

"The latest gag in retailing circles is 'These shortages are so terrible I'll soon have to rent another warehouse to store by goods.' . . . . The public's pretty smart. If you've looked around you know there are plenty of cars and television sets and refrigerators."

The ad admits that there is a shortage in aluminum foil, but you can get even that if you need it very badly.

So much for that advertisement.

I have done some window-shopping myself and visited all kinds of stores in New York City, in want our local stores to make money.

No strike is healthy—whether it Bridgeport, Norwalk, New Haven, Newark, N. J., and Syracuse.

Shortages—malarkey!

Somehow it became known that I am in the market for a new television set.

Within the last few days five stores have called me on the phone and offered me any make set I want. They offered me big allowance on my old set. Their stores are stocked with any make of set, from the cheapest to the most expensive.

Three months ago my wife looked around for a freezer.

They urged her to buy at once—there was a great shortage, they said. Pretty soon she wouldn't be able to get any.

She didn't buy. Prices were too high.

Today we see freezers galore, and they don't seem to be moving any too fast.

We are in no hurry. We are still waiting for prices to go down.

Some time ago I said that the best way to bring prices down is to stop buying at the high prices.

Could it be that the public is doing just that?

Could it be that smart women and men are beginning to realize that all this talk about shortages is so much malarkey?

We all want prosperity. We all is a workers' strike or a buyers' strike.

But when a strike is the only way to bring about decent condi-

Japan's First Home-Made Color Movie Packs 'Em In

By FRANK CONNIFF
(I. N. S. War Correspondent)

TOKYO, April 12.—Japan's first home-made, full-length color movie is packing natives and visitors alike into a downtown theater while outside ticket scalpers gleefully gather one of their lushest harvests since the war.

The picture runs for two solid housr and bears the title "Carmen Come Home". The principal character in the plot is an oriental Gypsy Rose Lee who goes by the un-Japanese name of "Lily Carmen".

While Hollywood's Grables and Hayworths may not envy the take-home pay of the lady who emotes in the yeading role, Miss Hideko Takamine still makes a respectable chunk of yen for her cinema labors. The Tokyo taxation bureau disclosed this week that Takamine-San was the country's second largest money-making artist last year, paying tax on an income of 7,210,000 yen.

Translated into dollars, that's about $20,000, and that ain't kimchee.

For Benefit of Americans

For the benefit of Americans in the audience, the producers of "Lily Carmen" have provided a rundown of the script of their technicolor tragedy. Many GI's find the text more amusing than the actual film. It tells of how two girls who become famous in Tokyo return to their native village dressed in their flashy clothes. The villagers are "struck with amazement".

"To tell the truth," the text continues, "they are strip girls famous in Asakusa now."

"After that day," he program elaborates, "the two girls distribute their half-nude bromides, sing doubtfully, besides wear western dresss being catched a fleeting glimpse of the thigh or stage clothes and parade the village, causing a sensation in this simple village, villagers laugh at them as pang-pangs but the two girls are convinced they are great artists."

Now love enters the scene. Japanese movie makers are as aware of the romantic formula as their Hollywood counterparts. But the printed English text pipes the theme very softly:

"H[illegible]o Tagachi, who lost sight in w[illegible] His only pleasure is to play the organ or compose.

"He would go to school to play the piano on a horse leading by his wife. In those days Carmen was well disposed toward Haruo, confessed her artistic anguish. On a field day of primary school Haruo played his own composition by schoolmaster's request.

"When Carmen and her friend are hearing the music Maruju holds latter's hand quietly. At that moment she jumps up, her skirt drops wholly. All the people burst out laughing and uproared, it spoiled Haruo's recital and the field day.

Shrewd Man of Business

"Maruju is a shrewd man of business, plots to make money under the cover of the introduction of art and the development of culture. Instantly he build a hut, put up poster on large scale everywhere and stir up curiosity of villagers.

"Upon hearing of that the schoolmaster intends to stop such a dancing for the sake of the villagers. Nevertheless he cannot help withdrawing his plan because of the difficult against her father's deep affection to her and the confusion of social manners nowadays. Thus, strip show opens in the midst of the sneer, scorn and curiosity of the villagers.

"Carmen and friend who are obsessed with idea they succeed in restoring their honours, return to Tokyo triumphantly. Organ is returned to Haruo from Maruju who has made a profit on this show.

"Haruo has got a little happiness."

Everything clear?

GIRL SCOUTS PLANT TREE IN ARBOR DAY PROGRAM

Arbor Day exercises are conducted by Girl Scout Troop 37, at the Big Run playground on Tuesday afternoon. Diane Abdoe (left) and Shirley Evans (right) fill in the dirt around the tree planted on the playground. Watching the ceremony with the troop are the leaders, Mrs. Margaret Mackiewicz and Mrs. Clyde Williams; recreation director, Rees Flannery, and maintenance foreman, Joseph Fracul.

Girl Scout troop 37 of Lincoln-Garfield school kept the honored tradition of tree-planting on Arbor Day at the ceremonies held Tuesday afternoon at the Big Run playground.

The scouts, Mrs. Marion Mackiewicz leader and Mrs. Clyde Williams assistant leader, with Joseph Fracul, maintenance foreman, and Rees Flannery, recreation director for the city of New Castle, assisting, planted the weeping willow tree in the Big Run playground along the banks of Big Run river.

Two of the scouts, Diane Abdoe, age 12, 217 Weaver street, and Shirley Evans, age 12, 1907 Hamilton street, lifted the first shovels full of soil into the hole around the tree.

Rosemary George spoke for the troop expressing their thanks to the many people who made it possible for the troop to plant the tree. Rosemary, who lives at 142 Center way, and Shirley Meyers of 311 Reynolds street are going to care for the tree and water it every day in keeping with the scout nature merit badge.

Have Conference On Civil Defense

Paul G. Dingledy, civil defense co-ordinator of the county, and Richard I. Davis, co-ordinator of the city, conferred with Ross Leffler, Allegheny County civil defense director, and civil defensers of eight other western Pennsylvania counties, Tuesday night at Pittsburgh.

They all agreed upon civil defense cooperation and Mr. Davis was named to draw up and present an insignia for the civil defense units.

Governor Dewey Sees Disastrous Failure Of U.S. Leadership

ALBANY, N. Y., April 12—(INS)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, national Republican titular leader, said Wednesday that the dismissal of General MacArthur by President Truman is "the culmination of a disastrous failure of leadership in Washington."

Dewey, who frequently has supported the Truman foreign policy since the 1948 campaign, said:

"General MacArthur has been a towering figure of strength first in bringing victory in the Pacific and then in bringing Japan to our side.

"His dismissal by the president is the culmination of a disastrous failure of leadership in Washington combined with a Far Eastern policy which has lost China to the free world, brought about war in Korea and threatens to divide us from our allies."

B.P.W. CLUB HAS APRIL ASSEMBLY

"Television and Tomorrow" was the theme for a dinner meeting of New Castle Business and Professional Women's club which took place Wednesday evening in First Methodist church. Mixed spring flowers and tapers decorated the tables.

Richard Cummiskey, Radio Corporation of America television branch manager, gave an instructive talk, stating that the first television service division was started in Long Island City. The first division for this district was opened in Pittsburgh. New Castle's division was first started in January, 1950, on Sampson street, now being located on Ray street. The speaker was introduced by Miss Grace Kelly, chairman of the radio and television committee.

"Self-Examination," a new film about cancer, was shown by Clay Aubel. Miss Dorothy Parry, co-chairman of the cancer detection center, stated that during three years 245 patients have been cared for at the local detection clinic, the number being divided almost equally between men and women. Miss Mary Scherger also spoke on "Cancer." Pamphlets on "Cancer" were also distributed.

Miss Esther Bauerlein, Ambridge, second vice-chairman of district No. 2, and Frances Lesniak, president of the Ambridge club, were special guests.

Miss Dorothy Long presided at the business session, when the group voted to contribute $25 to the local branch of the American Cancer Society and a campership of $30 to the Y. W. C. A. Mrs. Bruce Headland, Mrs. B. French Johnson and Miss Helen Westlake were named as alternates to the district meeting in the Cathedral on May 5, while Miss Edna Duff, Miss Mary Scherger and Miss Mary Virginia Harris were chosen as alternates.

Announcement was made of the antique show that will be held April 26, 27, 28, in the Cathedral.

Miss Emily Rice, Mrs. Riley Bollard and Miss Genevieve Riddle were appointed as the nominating committee for election of officers at the next meeting on May 9.

ALL-TOGETHER CLUB ENJOYS 'PAL NIGHT'

"Pal Night" was enjoyed by the All-Together club, Monday evening when they met in the Sons of Italy club rooms. Games and other informal diversions were featured.

Mrs. Mary Palumbo won the door prize during the evening's party and another prize was won by Mrs. Jessie Mash.

At a later hour, a dainty lunch was served by Mrs. Frances Roman, Mrs. Frances DePolis, Mrs. Teresa Naples, Mrs. Helen Ottaviano, and Mrs. Mary DeGennaro.

Chairman for the event was Mrs. Elizabeth Cubellis. She was assisted by Mrs. Mary Anzalone, Mrs. Adeline Volpe, Mrs. Mary Ross, and Mrs. Marietta Ceci.

April 16, is the meeting with Mrs. Adeline Volpe and Mrs. Frances DePolis, hostesses.

1914 Book Club To Meet

Members of the 1914 Book club will be entertained in the home of Mrs. C. N. Duff, New Wilmington, on Friday, April 13, at a 1 o'clock luncheon.

NORTH BEAVER CLUB WOMANLESS WEDDING

An hilarious "womanless wedding" entertained members of the North Beaver Garden club in the Mt. Jackson high school on Wednesday evening. A short business meeting was conducted by the president, John F. Miller.

William Davis and George Martin were in charge of the program, with Howard Butler arranging the wedding. All the glamour and excitement of an authentic wedding was reflected in the "impressive" ceremony. F. B. McCullough was the bride; William Caskey, the groom; John F. Miller, the minister; George Clark, ring-bearer; Arthur Walker and Wilbur Chambers, the bridesmaids; and Edward Bradley, the usher.

The jilted lover was protrayed by M. Dale Andrews; George Martin, the bride's mother; Joseph Davis, the bride's father; J. W. Fullerton and James Gardner, the bride's grandparents; Harry Reed, a neighbor; William Davis, a guest; Clarence Shumaker, a child; William McComb, the soloist; and Edward Shogren, the accompanist.

A reception was held following the program, with a traditional wedding cake gracing the tea table. Mrs. Harry Reed and Mrs. J. W. Brewster were in charge of the refreshments.

The next meeting will be held May 9 with the hostesses and host to be Mrs. J. W. Brewster and Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Shumaker.

C. U. T. E. Club Party

Miss Ruth Weir entertained members of the C. U. T. E. club at the home of her sister, Mrs. Carl Elder, Mercer road, Tuesday evening.

Two tables of bridge was the diversion, with prizes going to Mrs. Clare Montgomery and Mrs. Lee McNeish. A dainty lunch was served by the hostess, aided by her sisters, Mrs. Elder and Miss Peggy Weir. Spring flowers and candles were attractive table appointments, with tiny nut cups marking each place setting.

On April 25 the club will gather at the home of Mrs. Lee Messner, Pulaski road.

W. I. T. Y. Club Meets

Members of the W. I. T. Y. club were welcomed to the home of Mrs. Betty Haines, Cumberland avenue, recently. Two tables of bridge were the diversion, with prizes captured by Mrs. Jack Kirkwood and Mrs. Robert Park.

Special guests, Miss Mildred Miller and Mrs. Richard Moffatt, were presented with lovely gifts from the hostess.

On April 19 the group will assemble, with the place to be announced later.

FRIENDSHIP CIRCLE HEARS MRS. DEAN

Members of the Friendship Circle of the First Methodist church were entertained with a book review by Mrs. Chester Dean at their meeting on Tuesday evening in the church parlor. Several guests attended the "open" meeting.

Miss Beatrice Bruce had charge of the devotionals, using an article from the "Upper Room" as her theme. The program chairman, Mrs. Fred Alexander, introduced Mrs. Chester Dean who reviewed the popular book "The White Witch Doctor".

Tea was later enjoyed in the dining room, with Mrs. Culmer Schultz pouring. Daffodils and white candles decorated the table for the occasion. The committee in charge of arrangements included Mrs. W. J. McCormick, Mrs. Francis McCurdy and Mrs. Thomas Kelly.

Mrs. Charles McIver's group will be hostesses at the May 8 meeting, with the place to be announced.

Theta Rho Girls

Melissa Fenton Theta Rho girls will gather in I. O. O. F. hall, East Washington street, on Thursday, April 12, at 7 p. m. for a business meeting. Installation of officers, open to the Rebekah's, Odd Fellows and their friends, will follow at 8 p. m. Lunch will be served by a committee.

G. L. Club

The G. L. club meeting scheduled for this evening, has been postponed until Thursday, April 19. Mrs. Nick Ferresse, Agnew street, will be hostess at that time.

L.A.B. Club Postpones

Members of the L.A.B. club have postponed their meeting from tonight until April 26, with the group to gather at the home of Mrs. Anna McClimans, South Jefferson street.

Given 35 Years Sentence To Prison That He Dreaded

ALBANY, N. Y., April 12.—(INS)—An Albany killer who feared prison vengeance more than the electric chair was sentenced to 35 years behind bars today and then sent immediately to the prison he dreaded.

But before the doors of Clinton prison closed on Frederick E. McElroy, 35, authorities removed the cause of his dread by transferring out of Clinton the husband of the woman McElroy killed.

McElroy was sentenced for the slaying of Mrs. Margaret S. Terry) Perski in an Albany rooming house over a year ago.

When the jury returned the guilty verdict last week, McElroy stunned the spectators by arising and proclaiming he killed the young waitress deliberately; that he was really guilty of first degree murder, and that he wanted to die.

That same night, using a razor blade he taped to the inside of his thigh, McElroy slashed his throat in an unsuccessful attempt at suicide.

No Demonstration

A subdued McElroy stood before County Judge Martin Schenck this morning to receive sentence. The courtroom was crowded with spectators who expected another demonstration, but there was none.

McElroy may have known that the man he dreaded to meet, Thomas Perski, 28, would not be at Clinton prison when he arrived.

Perski, husband of the slain woman, was serving a five to ten year sentence at Clinton for third degree burglary and petty larceny.

There were rumors he didn't relish the thought of facing the man who killed his wife. But the meeting did not take place.

Less than an hour before McElroy arrived at Clinton and started through the dreary routine which awaits all prisoners, Perski was aboard a train for Great Meadow Prison.

News Briefs From City Hall

Following a meeting of council Wednesday colleagues accompanied Safety Director Richard I. Davis to various districts where requests for fire water hydrants had been requested by property-owners.

E. Gene Schweinsberg, streets and sewer director, was authorized by colleagues Wednesday to hire the Duntile company excavating machine to dig for the repair of a sanitary sewer in an alley coursing off Grant and Green streets. The sewer is 20 feet deep and it is too dangerous to use hand labor.

Joseph F. Medure, property director, urged council to dispose of eight lots, owned by the city on West Winter avenue and also city-owned property near the incinerator plant on Sampson street, requests having been made the land be sold for new dwellings. Council referred the matter to committee.

Mrs. Fannie Trimner Dies In Rochester

Mrs. Fannie Trimner, aged 83, former resident of this city, died in Rochester, N. Y., Wednesday, according to word reecived here by her sister, Mrs. P. K. Fike of 426 Sheridan avenue. Mrs. Trimner was reared in New Castle and was the daughter of the late John and Celia Vandegrift.

Surviving, in addition to Mrs. Fike, is one son, Justus W. Trimner of Rochester. Services and burial will take place on Friday at Rochester.

Andrew Jackson was nominated for the presidency by the first national party convention held in the United States, in 1832.

Sixty-Five Crippled Children Attend Clinic On Wednesday

Diagnostic and check-up clinic for crippled children was held at the Jameson Memorial hospital under the auspices of the Pennsylvania State Department of Health, Wednesday, April 11.

Sixty-five children took advantage of the services offered by the clinic under the capable direction of Dr. C. C. Yaunt of Pittsburgh. Several doctors from out-of-town attended the clinic. Among them was Dr. Chamberline, director of the state crippled children's program.

The clinic, whose offices are located at 23 East North street, expressed its thanks to the many willing and helpful volunteer workers and to the staff and student nurses at the hospital for their part in making the crippled children's clinic a success.

Boy Is Struck By Car On East Street

Roman Litwinowicz, came to the police station Wednesday afternoon at 4:20 o'clock with a boy named William Weakley, aged 8 years, of 30 East street, whom Litwinowicz said had run out in front of his car.

The boy was taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital, where it was found he had brush burns of the face, laceration of the left leg, and an injury to the jaw. He was to return today for X-rays to determine the full extent of his injuries.

Business College Has Alumni Party

Members of the New Castle Business College student body held a get-together for the alumni Wednesday evening at a New Bedford dance pavillion.

Dancing by recorded music, Helen Christos in charge, and an entertaining program, under the direction of Mrs. Thomas Boyle, student council advisor, were the features of the evening.

Participants in the program were: Jack Ritchie, comedien M C; Dave Moses, Edith Klush and Mary Johns, vocal trio; Abdo Albert, readings; Marchline Fava, who introduced his daughter, Angela (age 16), on the accordian, and son, Philip (age 12), on the drums.

Mrs. Boyle welcomed the students and the alumni and G. Crawford Lyon, director of the College, gave a short address.

Students and alumni agreed that the party was a success.

Dulles To Leave For Tokyo, Japan Friday Or Saturday

WASHINGTON, April 12—(INS)—State Department spokesman Michael McDermott said John Foster Dulles, State Department advisor on the Japanese Peace Treaty, will leave either tomorrow or Saturday for Tokyo for consultation on the pending treaty draft.

Dulles' plan to again discuss the treaty with Japanese officials was announced at the White House following a conference there between Dulles, President Truman, and Secretary of State Acheson.

Observers believe Dulles' trip is aimed primarily at reassuring the Japanese the removal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur from his Far Eastern command will not impede the speedy agreement on a treaty.

Napoleon had little to do with drawing up the Code Napoleon which revised the laws of France in 1807.

Denies Controversy Between Sec. Pace And Gen. MacArthur

TOKYO, April 12—(INS)—An official source close to Gen. Douglas MacArthur again denied today any controversy between him and President Truman was discussed during a Monday night conference with Army Secretary Frank Pace, Jr.

The source likewise denied the following:

1. That Gen. MacArthur previously prepared or even considered his resignation.

2. That MacArthur attacked United Nations policies in Korea during his conference with Pace.

Senate Probers May Look Into Fee Charges

By CHARLES B. SEIB
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 12.—Senate influence probers indicated today they may investigate President Truman's reported charge that there was evidence of congressoinal fee-taking in letters from congressmen to the Reconstruction Finance Corp.

Three members of the Fulbright sub-committee—Sens. Douglas (R) Ill., Capehart, (R) Ind., and Bricker (R) Ohio—said that they favored examination of all letters from legislators to the loan agency to determine whether any such charge was warranted.

The letters, 800 in number, are are now being held for the subcommittee at RFC headquarters. The senators had tentatively decided to bypass examination of them, but Chairman Fulbright (D) Ark., said that the President's statements—disclosed by Senator Tobey (R) N. H.—required a "reconsideration of the whole matter."

A decision on whether to call for the letters is expected shortly. Meanwhile, the Senate today begins debate on a move to kill Mr. Truman's plan to reorganize the RFC by putting it under a single director.

Although Fulbright supports the plan, the Senate expenditures committee has recommended, 7 to 6, that it be killed. A close Senate vote is expected.

Hi-Y Clubs Go Over Quota In Charity Fund Raising Effort

New Castle Hi-Y clubs have gone over their quota in a fund raising campaign for a children's orphanage made up of displaced person's children, at Bad Aibling, Germany.

The local Hi-Y clubs worked on this project in cooperation with 1200 other Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y clubs of Pennsylvania who promised financial support of the children's DP orphanage for one year.

Bad Aibling is an orphanage of some 400 children in the American sector of Germany, containing all nationalities of children and organized through the efforts of the international committee of YMCA's.

Shenango township's high school Hi-Y was the most successful in the sales campaign, contributing some fifty dollars to the fund. Other contributing Hi-Y clubs were Washington Jr. Hi-Y, Franklin Jr. Hi-Y, New Castle Senior and Sophomore Hi-Y's and the Union township Hi-Y.

Fail To Agree On Wage Stabilization Plan At Meeting

WASHINGTON, April 12.—(INS) President Truman's 17-man mobilization advisory board failed to agree on a wage stabilization plan at a three hour closed door conference at the White House.

The board arranged to meet again this afternoon to continue its effort to solve the problem.

Assistant White House Secretary Irving Perlmeter said proposals for a new tri-partite board and for an all public board were discussed.

Korean Missionary To Speak At First Methodist Sunday

At the morning service of the First Methodist church, Miss Jeannette C. Hulbert, of Cleveland, Ohio, a Methodist missionary on furlough from Korea, will be the guest speaker.

Miss Hulbert arrived in Korea for the first time in August, 1914. After studying the language, she began teaching at Ewha College with an emphasis on English writing courses. During World War II, she was in this country at the West Side Community House, Cleveland, for three years assisting with the day nursery and boys' department. In 1944 she taught accounting at Pfeiffer College in North Carolina, and was named its registrar.

When it was possible to re-enter Korea, Miss Hulbert was one of the first to return to Ewha to resume work at the college. Part of her work has included writing up psychological testing techniques for the classes taught in the absence of approriate materials.

Miss Hulbert was among those evacuated from Korea in August, 1950, but intends to return as soon as possible.

The greatest need for Korea today is relief of all kinds, and rehabilitation of houses, churches and schools. The people of Korea have faced this terrible tragedy of destruction to life and property with courage and faith that show in their appreciation for the help that has come from America.

Girl Scout Council Has April Assembly At Scout Offices

Members of the Girl Scout Council of the New Castle area gathered Tuesday evening in the scout offices, North Mercer street, for their April meeting. Miss Emily Rice, commissioner, presided at the business session.

Mrs. Plummer Gibson, established camp committee chairman, reported that the Camp Flyers, which are ready, will be sent soon to the Girl Scouts. Miss Maxine Bigley, chairman of the membership nominating committee, presented a slate for new members to be voted upon at the next meeting.

Mrs. H. Ward Lewis, chairman of the organization committee, reported that several new leaders have been obtained in the past month and that other sections of the area desire to have troops. Mrs. Paul Forcey announced that the program planned for April 27 has been cancelled on account of troop activities.

Mrs. Frank Bower, senior advisor, announced that a conference for Senior Girl Scouts will be held April 21. Mrs. C. C. McDermott, chairman of training, reported that training, reported that 30 new leaders were trained last month. Mrs. Clarence Shumaker, president of the Leaders' club, told of plans for the Leaders - Council meeting.

Honor Two Members

At the close of the meeting two members, who are leaving New Castle, were honored. Miss Maxine Bigley, who will be married Saturday, has been in scouting for 16 years, is leader of a senior Scout troop and secretary of the council. Mrs. Paul Forcey, a former commissioner, has been in Girl Scout work for seven years. In behalf of the council, Mrs. C. M. Booher presented lovely gifts to Miss Bigley and Mrs. Forcey.

Refreshments were served by Miss Helen Wilson, Dr. Jane Morris and Miss Mildred Lusk, hostesses.

St. George Church Elects Officers

At a recent meeting at the St. George Greek Orthodox church new officers were elected for 1951. These new heads include: president, John G. Zabetakis; vice president, James John; secretary, William Georgion; treasurer, Peter Karidis, and council, Spero Stefanis, Harry Kolanos and John Christianakis.

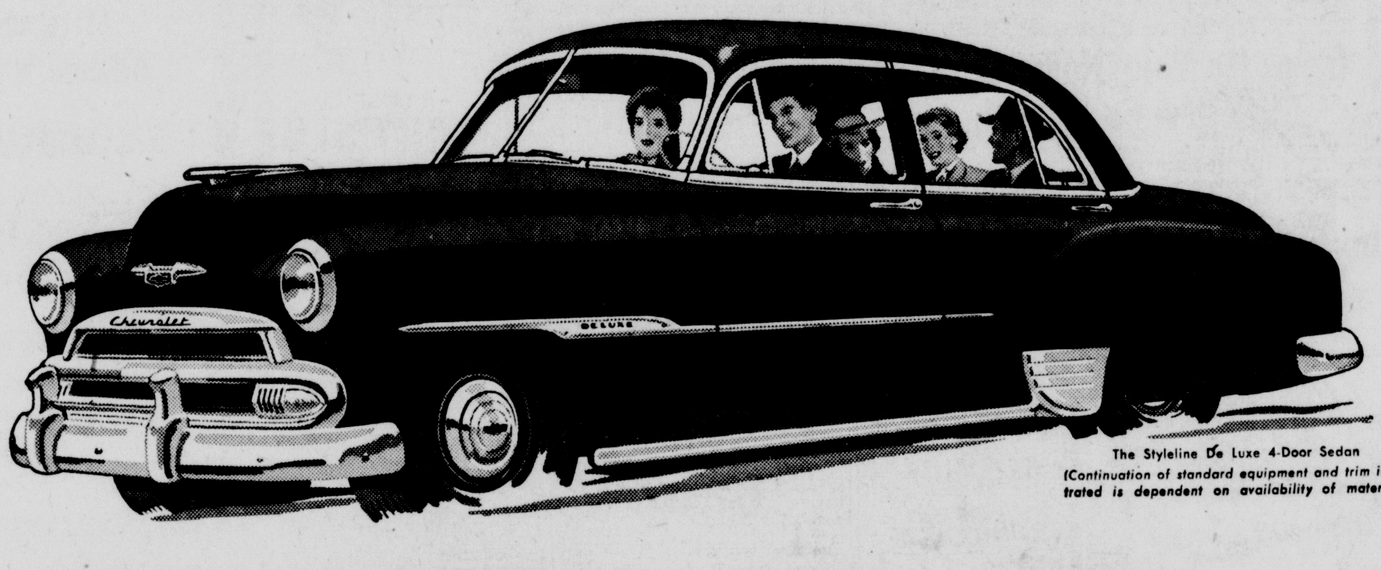
CHEVROLET
America's Largest and Finest Low-Priced Car!



The Styleline De Luxe 4-Door Sedan
(Continuation of standard equipment and trim illustrated is dependent on availability of material.)

Yes, LARGEST... and the facts speak for themselves

It's LONGEST in the low-price field, a full 197 4/5 inches of spirited action and clean, sweeping lines. It's HEAVIEST in the low-price field, a staunch and solid 3140 pounds in the model illustrated. It has the WIDEST TREAD in the low-price field, a road-taming 58¾ inches between centers of the rear wheels. Longer, heavier, with wider tread . . . that's the measure of Chevrolet's rock-solid value . . . big in looks, big in handling and riding ease, big in road-hugging performance. Why settle for less than a Chevrolet . . . when Chevrolet is the lowest priced line in the low-price field.

Yes, FINEST... and here are the plain-spoken reasons

FISHER BODY QUALITY, renowned for solid and lasting goodness. UNITIZED KNEE-ACTION RIDE, smooth and gliding. VALVE-IN-HEAD ENGINE ECONOMY, spirited performance at lowest cost. Price Stabilizer Predicts Early Reductions Coming

PHILADELPHIA, April 12 — (INS) — Regional Price Stabilizer Victor E. Moore predicted today that housewives soon may notice price reductions in many fields.

Pointing to recent decreases in wholesale commodity prices, Moore said that drops were reported in 8 of 11 categories covered by an OPS survey.

"These decreases, although small percentage-wise, will be noticeable to the housewife," he stated. "They are very important indications of the trend in the battle against inflation."

At the same time, Moore warned businessmen to beware of "attempted racketeering" in the sale of OPS price chart forms.

He asserted that there is no need to purchase expensive printed forms, since a few blank sheets of paper will serve the purpose.

"The government does not provide any form for price charts," Moore explained, "because any retailer can make out his own without any such guide."

Will Employ Girls To Work In Camp In Connecticut

Pennsylvania State Employment Service of Lawrence county is again in need of girls over 16 to work on a tobacco farm during the summer months.

The local office will send 165 girls, for six weeks, to Camp Berkshire, Conn., for "vacation employment," which includes supervised swimming, boating, dancing, and other recreation.

Mrs. Wilda K. Patterson, of local employment office, and Miss Elizabeth Morrow, camp directress, have called a meeting for tonight, April 12, in the employment office, at 7 o'clock to distribute applications to those interested.

Those planning to work will leave July 1, and return in time to go back to school.

Two Refuse To Tell Whether They Are Communists

WASHINGTON, Apsil 12—(INS)—Actor Will Gees and Screen Writer Robert Lees refused Wednesday on grounds of possible self-incrimination to tell the House un-American activities committee whether they ever were Communists.

They were the third and fourth movie figures to defy the committee in its current probe of Hollywood Communism. Gale Sondergaard and Howard Da Silva refused to answer similar questions last month.

Committee Counsel Frank Tavenner said the House group has evidence Lees held membership cards in the Communist party in 1943 and 1944 and Lees refused to affirm or deny the statement.

Commends YMCA Workers For Support During '51 Campaign

Judge John G. Lamoree, general chairman of the 1951 YMCA membership drive joined with the staff members of the Y, in thanking various team captains and team workers for the fine way in which they supported the membership campaign, which once again went over the top.

The YMCA can extend to the community once again its fine community work with boys and men, and it can offer to needy boys, membership in the association which is world wide in scope.

Said Judge Lamoree, "You can feel proud to be a member of the association, which year after year is able to have successful membership campaigns. You have made New Castle a YMCA town. I am sure that we are all pleased to know that we have an active Y in our community."

Governor Fine Criticizes Ouster Of Gen. MacArthur

HARRISBURG, April 12—(INS)—Gov. John S. Fine was lined up today with the critics of President Truman's ouster of Gen. Douglas MacArthur as Far Eastern commander.

He said he regretted Truman's action and declared:

"It seems possible that out of this unhappy situation may come much of benefit to the country. It is not improbable, now that General MacArthur has been relieved of his responsibilities, that he may see fit to give the American people information about Far Eastern conditions that so far have been denied them.

Enlightenment of the American people on these enigmas most certainly is desirable."

Resolution of Censure

Turned over to the House Rules Committee last night was a resolution "censuring" President Truman for removing MacArthur from command.

The resolution, co-sponsored by Republican Assemblymen Paige Varner, Clarion, and Harry C. Spencer, Lackawanna, said in part:

"At just the point when all military, political and diplomatic losses incurred since 1946 by the national administration's vacillating and incongruous policy and course of action, if any, could be recouped by vigorous counteraction and self interest, President Harry S. Truman has seen fit to compound all the past errors by relieving from his entire command General Douglas MacArthur, a god-fearing American as well as a military genius."

Asks $30,000 In Suit Because Of 'Hot Foot'

PHILADELPHIA, April 12 — (INS) — James Riley, of Philadelphia, asked $30,000 damages today for a "hot foot" given him in a Quaker City taproom in 1949.

The suit filed against Daniel Gallagher, the taproom proprietor, alleged the latter failed to "protect" Riley from the hot foot applied by William Martin, a patron and "a known prankster."

The petition charged Gallagher knew Riley was "woozy" from drink and therefore violated the Pennsylvania liquor laws by not preventing Martin from giving the hot foot.

Riley's petition said he suffered third degree burns and incurred a "disgusting disfigurement" of his right leg when his trousers caught fire.

The resulting burns, Riley alleged, make it impossible for him to "appear in a bathing suit without great humiliation."

Utmost in Tire Quality ...and Service

Today and Tomorrow...The only such tires in the world!

Who isn't looking into the future?

Who isn't looking at his car, his tires and his tubes, estimating the life left in them?

Who isn't asking about U. S. Royal AIR RIDE tires, demanding the qualities and features which they, exclusively, supply?

There is nothing new about this enormous demand. For more than two years our factories have been unable to catch up with the vast public desire to own these superb tires.

With every shipment, orders are being filled. With every order, a new and lasting friendship is established.

The great U. S. Royal Mid-Century Tires have become THE TIRES OF THE CENTURY.

Wherever you live or wherever you are—if at any time your U. S. Royal Dealer can't fill your order for new U. S. Royal tires immediately, he can render complete, responsible service on your old tires to keep you in safety and comfort till your new tires arrive.

Special Notice

Royal Master Owners!

Those great Mid-Century Masters of yours can remain fresh and new in safety when other tires are giving up their lives. Their great tread depth permits complete renewal of the Royaltex Safety Tread treatment again and again, without recapping or anything of the sort. It takes about an hour's time.

Kiwanis Hears City Forester

Owen P. Fox Talks On Conservation

Speaking to members of the New Castle Kiwanis club, at the weekly luncheon meeting in The Castleton, Wednesday noon, City Forester Owen P. Fox made a plea for conservation of our natural resources.

Every day, we see more and more of our great outdoors being destroyed through the careless action of mankind in neglecting to take proper conservation measures.

Then too, there are many pests which destroy vegetation, such as the tent caterpillars. A little kerosene oil or crankcase oil, applied to the tents of these caterpillars when they are small, will wipe them out after a few applications, he stated.

Wild trees are most difficult to transplant, Mr. Fox stated, and urged his hearers to purchase stock from nurserymen, who root, prune and cultivate these transplants so that they can stand the shock of transplanting.

In planting trees, he advocated placing several handfuls of oats at the bottom of the hole, covering them with dirt. This will furnish humus and nitrogen for the young tree.

He stated that he has planted around 175,000 trees in Lawrence county, without losing a tree through this method.

Almost everything we enjoy in life, can trace its origin to the great outdoors.

He also gave some helpful advice in caring for lawns, which need a top dressing of fertilizer twice a year.

Members of the Catholic War Veterans Auxiliary will have an important meeting Friday at 8 p.m. in the St. Vitus church hall. Miss Jennie Domiano, persident, will preside.

OUTDOOR RAMBLES with N. R. CASILLO

This is a scene on the Little Neshannock just north of New Wilmington. Conditions were ideal. Four fish were creeled.

STREAMS AT A GLANCE

Sunday is the day when many will give our county streams a whirl. In Lawrence county there are five regularly stocked trout streams representing approximately 30 miles of fishable waters. These observations were made last evening between 4:30 and 6:30. Unless we get a heavy downpour the streams will be in about the same condition as described herein.

The chap who wants to get the most out of his proposed outing should reconnoiter the stream of his choice on the previous day. A leisurely ramble along its banks should reveal any changes in stream bed, favorite holes and snags. You may get a kick out of such a trip and in some instances prove more interesting than the fishing trip itself.

When you do get down to the business of fishing, don't hurry from hole to hole hoping to get there ahead of the other fellow. Take your time and fish intelligently, deliberately and objectively. This is important if the stream is cluttered with an impatient mob bent upon catching every fish in the stream. Fish leisurely. It marks the expert.

Take Your Pick

Deer creek was in superb condition. Water level was normal for the season and running very clear. It was easy to see minute objects on the bottom in depths exceeding four feet. Water temperatures taken at intervals of a quarter of a mile were identical, being 51 degrees at four feet. If this holds up, underwater lures of various kinds may prove effective. Nymphs, streamer flies, feather minnows and even wet flies of medium size and color patterns will be worth trying. Live bait such as minnows and worms should prove deadly to the brook trout with which the stream is stocked.

The Little Neshannock was in tiptop shape; a bit high perhaps, but in a condition to gladen the hearts of most early season fishermen. The temperature of 48 degrees points to underwater lures and live bait fished deep. If we have one fairly warm day before Sunday, both brook and rainbow trout will feed on the surface. If you find redfin shiners, dace and fallfish taking your surface offerings, then you may be sure that the trout will take hold sooner or later.

The Slippery Rock at Rambler's Rest, Kennedy's Mills and McConnells was running high and fast. Water was not very clear, the visibility being about 18 inches. Water temperature was surprisingly low, being a frigid 45 at all three points. Conditions are not what might be considered good, but there will be fishermen who will catch fish. Concentrate your efforts at the mouths of the numerous tributaries. Fish deep and be patient and you are likely to tangle with a big brown or rainbow. Browns are bothered but slightly by turbid water. A splendid stream, the Slippery Rock.

Taylor Run will get a big play. The conditions this evening were exactly right for underwater lures and live baits, and if we get a break in the weather the brookies may even take surface lures. But, you can bet that the boys using worms will make the killings. However, that never deters the angler partial to artificials from using his favorites. The temperature was 46.

Big Run will get exactly what its name connotes. It is a favorite with boys and even with older fishermen who do not want to travel too far afield. Conditions in every way were highly favorable. If the temperature remains at 47, opening day anglers will have the most success with live baits and underwater lures. Brookies are the piece de resistance.

Mystery Stream

There is a little stream not too far away from Rambler's Rest which has surprised the few exploratory anglers who have tried it. It has a name, but we are not going to mention it, and for some years now it has not been stocked. However, its water is clear and fast and trout have access to it. The last time we dropped a lure into it a bouncing rainbow responded with an eclat that formed a fitting sequel to a memorable day. Try to find it.

A Parting Word

Do not heed the weather. One of the most successful trips (if success may be gauged by the number of fish caught), we have ever taken was during a combination thunder, rain and snow storm; not in minor fits and spurts, but one wherein the elements pulled out all the stops. It may be added that fish react to weather much as humans do. They like a clear, brisk day with a congenially warm sun. However, if the water temperature is right, i. e., between 45 and 65 regrees, get out regardless of the weather.

DISTINGUISHED VISITOR

Late last Friday afternoon when W. C. Williams looked out on his pond located between old and new routes 422, he was amazed to see a large white swan floating regally on the quiet surface.

A subsequent check proved the bird to be a whistling swan, doubtlessly a migrant that had strayed from the flock or probably dropped out of ta formation because of fatigue.

Since the birds fly at extreme heights and seldom land while enroute to their nesting grounds on the Arctic coast, the lone swan could therefore be considered a rare visitor to Lawrence county waters. It departed at dusk on the same day.

Wound-rubber golf balls were introduced in the early 1900s.

Accident Victim Slowly Improving

Condition of Miss Lucille Bucci of R.D. 1, Wampum, who was seriously injured on Tuesday afternoon when struck by a truck, which took the life of her younger sister, is reported to be changed for the better, it was reported at Ellwood City General hospital this morning.

Miss Bucci received a fracture of the left shoulder, several broken ribs and severe contusions. Services for the sister, Miss Angeline Bucci, will be conducted Saturday from St. Agatha church in Wampum.

Can't Hold Back on Praise for Hadacol

Wonderful Formula Relieves Indigestion, Fatigue, Aches and Pains, When Due to a Lack of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Niacin and Iron

When everybody you know starts telling you how much better you're looking and when all your troubles seem to disappear almost overnight . . . MAN, that's a wonderful feeling! Nothing in the whole wide world can beat it! That's just what happened to Mr. John P. Ray, c/o the Cassville Democrat, Cassville, Missouri.

Mr. Ray heard how HADACOL was relieving conditions caused by a lack of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Niacin and Iron, and he decided to see what it would do for his aches and pains and stomach distress. So sincere, so straight-forward, is Mr. Ray's letter that we want you to hear about it from him in his own words.

He says, "Before I started taking HADACOL I was rundown and had no appetite whatever. After taking my fourth small sized bottle, I could easily tell that I was feeling better, and now after being on my fourth large sized bottle, I well know of the splendid value it has been to me. Many people I met, who had known me years and years, remarked to me that I was looking better. I told them unhesitatingly that I had been taking HADACOL. I unhesitatingly recommend HADACOL because I well know the fine results it has secured for me. This is the first time in my life I have ever given a testimonial, but I do feel that a person who has received as much good from HADACOL as I have, should tell others about it. You have my permission to use this statement in any way you desire. It is all true and I do not back down on one word of it, as my neighbors and friends here at home could verify."

HADACOL has been specially compounded to give you more than the minimum daily requirements of these very elements, plus helpful quantities of Phosphorus and Calcium. They're all in the special HADACOL liquid form for quick, easy absorption in the system. HADACOL builds blood hemoglobin (when Iron is needed) to speed these precious Vitamins and Minerals to every part of the body and to every body organ.

Can you doubt an honest statement like Mr. Ray's? Can you doubt the words of your friends and neighbors who have been helped? Why not find out for yourself today. Remember, HADACOL is recommended by many doctors and is sold on a strict money-back guarantee.

HANEY'S

Around Hollywood

By JAMES PADGITT

(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, April 12.—Jane Russell and Victor Mature head an RKO- Radio company that moves in on Las Vegas late next week to do a film saga depicting the nation's gambling center in its true light.

The picture is "The Las Vegas Story" and it has to do with the theft of a diamond necklace from Jane's room while she is splashing around in a swimming pool. Mature, representing the law in Las Vegas, gets the thief, solves a murder along the way and gets Russell.

Will Please Everyone

The studio claims that the picture will please everybody concerned, including the good people of Las Vegas who have long wailed that Hollywood has depicted their city as being infested with blue-jowled, sinister characters and with running gun battles up and down the streets 24 hours a day.

Director Robert Stevenson says that his cameras will record things just as they are in the resort city, with suntanned and average-looking people frequenting the gaming tables at night and life proceeding at a leisurely pace with swimming, sunning and horseback riding by day.

The studio has built a flashy "hotel fabulous" casino set on the Hollywood lot for interior scenes, which copies the best features of the real article in Las Vegas and adds a few typical Hollywood touches to boot.

Unsung Hero

Meet another unsung hero of the movie business. He is Bob Murdoch, a property man at Universal-International, whose job is to wade around in deep water and put fish on hooks.

"It's driving me crazy," mourns Murdoch. "All day long, up to my elbows in water, jabbing hooks into halibut. Then Charles Bickford runs in the line, Dick Conte takes the fish off—and I've got to start all over again."

The chore is for "Fiddler's Green," a suspense story about the San Francisco fishing fleet. Director George Sherman shot his scenes on a sound stage. He purchased three tons of fish for Murdoch to string on the lines of the fishermen.

"That's where I come in," explains Murdoch. "Before they're through, I'll have put 500 fish on the lines. I ought to get screen credit. Maybe a line that says: 'Robert Murdoch, in the role of Davey Jones.'"

Preview of the week: Robert Stillman's production of "Queen For A Day" is the most refreshingly different film to come out of the studios in many a day. Three stories are unfolded, each cleverly tied together with the radio program. The episodes include the childhood fantasy "This Gossamer World," the suspenseful "High Diver" and the hauntingly beautiful "Horsie" as a finale that does not leave a dry eye in the audience. Director Arthur Lubin cast the picture mainly with unknowns who should go places after this one.

Bird House Contest Winners Will Be Announced Friday

Grand prize winners in the YMCA Gra-Y bird house contest will be selected on Friday evening, April 13, in the YMCA, it was announced today by John Thompson, secretary of the boys department of the Y.

Owen P. Fox, city forester, will serve as final judge for the contest which has been active for some weeks in the grade schools of New Castle.

The prize winning houses of the various Gra-Y clubs will be put on display Friday and the best ones awarded prizes. The public has been invited.

Rose Avenue, Oak Street, West Side, Thaddeus Stevens, Pollock avenue, Lincoln-Garfield and the Margaret Henry Home will have contest entries.

Aircraft Warning Test Is Ordered

Announcement was made this morning by Fred M. Alexander, chief of ground air observers for Lawrence county, that an aircraft warning test will be conducted here on April 14 and 15, and that a meeting of all observers held in the solarium of the Jameson Memorial hospital at 7:30 o'clock make preparations for the event.

Mr. Alexander has just recently been named aircraft chief and will be succeeded by Dr. T. J. Fletcher as supervisor of aircraft warning for New Castle.

The test on Saturday and Sunday will take place between the hours of 9 a. m. and 5 p. m.

NEWPORT

David Cory had the misfortune to have his collar-bone broken Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Edwards and Ed Phillips were called to West Virginia by the death of the latter's daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Allen, Mrs. J. M. Stephenson and Mrs. A. G. H. Crawford of Moravia visited Mrs. Viola Allen on Sunday.

Mrs. Pete Brophy was a visitor in Ellwood City Saturday evening.

Ralph Andrews has returned home from the Jameson Memorial hospital.

Edward J. Guinaugh On Mediterranean Cruise

Unofficial "Ambassador of Good Will" is Edward J. Guinaugh, seaman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Guinaugh of 204 Smithfield street, New Castle, who is serving aboard the heavy cruiser USS Salem operating with the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean.

Duty in the Mediterranean will give the Sixth Fleet sailors an opportunity to visit many of the bordering countries such as Greece, Turkey, Egypt, and Italy.

Ellwood City Man On Caribbean Cruise

Frank V. Pishioneri, seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip J. Pishioneri of 321 Third street, Ellwood City, Pa., serving aboard the battleship USS New Jersy, brought back on active duty, recently completed a "shakedown cruise" in the Caribbean.

Pishioneri entered the Navy in September, 1949.

City Mission Activity Shown

Remodeling Work On Second Floor

The Spring program of the City Rescue Mission, 17 South Mercer street, has definitely gotten under way, according to the latest report of the Mission superintendent, Rev. F. Dickson Marshall.

The month of March proved another heavy one for the Mission staff according to the superintendent's report. During that month, 483 men sought and received lodging while 1346 free meals were given to the transients. Local indigent asking for clothes were given 901 articles. Rev. Marshall accepted six speaking and three singing engagements during the month. There were 31 Gospel services conducted in the Mission.

Remodeling of the study and consultation room is progressing on the Mission building's second floor. The new kitchen and dining room is progressing with paint applied on the walls. This will be in operation as soon as repair work is done. A new inlaid linoleum is to be laid on the dining room floor. The new facilities will provide extra dormitory space on the third floor.

Truck Operating

The Mission now has in operation a truck which visits the city each Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. The truck will also go within 12 or 13 miles of the city to pick up clothing and furniture. Any residents who are spring house cleaning and have usable articles, should call the Mission at 430 and the truck will make a call.

At present, the Mission can use towels and bed sheets for its dormitory, as well as vegetables in cans for the larder which is used in feeding the transient men. Other food stuffs are acceptable for use at the Mission.

Rev. Marshall reports that the present indebtedness on the Mission property is $8,000 and the board is seeking to liquidate this debt soon, so that other projects can be carried. It is hoped that a small piece of land can be secured adjacent to the city for the erection of a warehouse for the Mission industrial work. The board would appreciate any help along this line.

The Mission Superintendent has been active in the work of the International Union of Gospel Missions having just returned from a three day stay at Buffalo, N. Y., where he and Mrs. Marshall participated on the program. Rev. Marshall was elected to the advisory board. He also visited Parkersburg, W. Va., conducting services there. Rev. Marshall has also been elected to the nominating committee of the international group.

BEAVER TWP.

ENON VALLEY WOMEN'S CLUB

Rev. and Mrs. L. M. Mechtley of Prospect, Butler county, will present a musical program at the next regular meeting of the Enon Valley Women's club, to be held Monday evening, April 16, in the New Galilee Presbyterian church. The New Galilee group will be hostesses and program committee.

Rev. and Mrs. Mechtley can play several different musical instruments, and a fine program has been planned for their audience.

Darlington Book club and the Mt. Jackson Women's club have been invited, as well as members of the local community, to be present for the program and social time following.

FAMILY NIGHT AT LADIES CLUB

Family night will be observed by the Big Beaver Grange Ladies' club Wednesday evening, April 18, in the Big Beaver Grange hall beginning with a basket supper at seven o'clock.

Hostesses will be: Mrs. W. H. McCullough, Mrs. James Beatty, Mrs. R. S. McAnlis, Miss Marie McAnlis. The March hostesses have an interesting program planned, which will include readings, music and pictures.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Calvin will show several reels of pictures that will be of local interest.

Members of the Ladies' Club will spend the day in Pittsburgh for their month of May meeting.

BEAVER TOWNSHIP NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel E. Craig are the parents of a daughter, Sara Jean, born April 5 in the Jameson Memorial hospital. Mrs. Craig is the former Miss Marie Beatty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Beatty of Big Beaver township.

Mrs. Wayne McHattie and son, Irvin, returned home last Saturday evening from a trip by automobile to Greenville, S. C. They spent a few days on the campus of Bob Jones University and attended a religious conference in session there.

James R. Hamilton, a senior at Edinboro State Teachers College, is at the present time, doing his practice teaching in an Erie, Pa., high school.

Mrs. Elda McMillen spent the past week visiting her daughter, Mrs. Howard Marshall, and family in Beaver Falls. The Marshall's second son, Charles, is at Great Lakes Naval Training School, Chicago, Ill., and the family plan to visit him soon.

Spring meeting of the Beaver Valley Presbyterial, United Presbyterian church, will meet at the Wurtemburg U.P. church on Thursday, April 19.

NO SMOKE

LONDON—(INS)—River Thames tug-boats and steamers will burn smokeless fuel—under special allocation by the Fuel Ministry—so that smoke stacks will not belch smoke and soot over Festival of Britain visitors this summer.

Bouncing Brain Will Be Shown

By FRED DOERFLINGER

LONDON—(INS)—A model of the human brain which can be separated to display each section—and which can be bounced on the floor without damage—will be shown for the first time at the British Industries Rair from April 30 to May 11.

The bouncing brain—made of a special rubber—is the result of long experimentation. All previous models have been in hard plaster material which chipped and broke in passing the models around the laboratory or classroom.

It is produced by Educational and Scientific Plastics Ltd.

This firm is stepping up production of plastic skeletons to meet an international shortage of skeletons described as "fantastic".

The standard plastic skeleton of a young woman—make skeletons are not in demand—can be delivered in 14 days against up to nine months for the real thing. The price is about half the real thing, and plastic skeletons are said to be of better quality than human ones.

U. S. buyers have already ordered these skeletons and are reordering. The first deliveries to the U. S. evoked the complaint that plastic skeletons, not real ones, had been ordered.

The firm is the only one in the world in this field and will also show at the B. I. F. their first miniature human skeleton 24 inches high, which is intended for table and classroom demonstration. It is built exactly to scale.

Education and Scientific Plastics Ltd. also produce models of feet, hands and other parts of the human frame. Corset manufacturers are the biggest buyers of pelvis models.

Grange Heads Of Same Mind

Reaffirm Stand On Public Parks

Members of the executive committee of Pomona grange Wednesday morning reaffirmed their stand upon the taking over of scenic territory for park purposes in Lawrence county.

Present were Dale Curry, master of Pomona grange, Glenn Patterson and Ralph Allison. Harry McCurley, another member, was unable to be present.

The grangers thanked the county commissioners for starting action to condemn a tract near Muddy Creek Falls and in substance said this: "The last time we were in we asked that the county commissioners take steps to preserve scenic territory in the county for future generations.

"Steps have been started for condemnation of land near Muddy Creek Falls and we endorse this step. We would like to feel that future generations will have the right to enjoy the scenic wonders of such spots as this."

The men also discussed with the commissioners of getting work started towards the elimination of barbary in the county, a pest that spreads disease among wheat. In some parts of the county it is bad and the federal and state agricultural departments are interested.

PROTEST ROAD

Citizens of Shenango township protested to the county commissioners Wednesday about the plan of the State Highway department to relocate a road running from Chewton over Turkey Hill in Shenango township into Union Valley.

The citizens say there is a fair road there now which could be improved for less than the sum the department proposes to spend to relocate the road, about $100,000.

DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME

Technically the court house will remain upon Eastern Standard Time this summer. Actually it will go upon Daylight Saving Time April 29. Employes will work from 7 to 3 o'clock EST which is 8 to 4 o'clock DST. These summer hours will be in effect until September 30. No official clocks can show anything but Eastern Standard Time according to a state statute.

ARENA PROPERTY

Listed in the above realty transfers is the sale of The Arena property on Grove street by Janet Louis Fennell and others to Stanley M. Shaw at a price of $45,000. The building recently burned. Mr. Shaw operated The Arena before the fire.

JUDGE LAMOREE SENTENCES

Before Judge John G. Lamoree Wednesday morning sentences were pronounced upon six men and the sentences were salty enough to give the men in question a lesson in law and order.

Charles Watkins was fined 6¼ and costs and got four to eight years to the Western Penitentiary for three counts of burglary.

Fred Gill was finde 6¼ cents and drew from four to eight years in the Western Penitentiary for a morals charge.

Vincent DeLillo was fined $1 and costs and one year to the Allegheny County Workhouse for forgery.

James and Lee Lane were each fined 6¼ cents and costs and one to two years in the county jail for aggravated assault and battery and robbery.

L. J. Hammond was fined $50 and costs and placed upon probation for one year for burglary.

Korea Film Planned At Portersville

Portersville Youth for Christ will view an especially inspiring film "38th Parallel" during the regular youth rally in the Portersville U. P. church, Saturday at 8 p.m.

The service will consist of a period of singspiration followed by the showing of the film which was created by Bob Pierce. The picture despicts the thrilling story of God's deadline in Korea, in sound and color. It shows the spiritual revival in Korea before the war machines moved in. It depicts Koreans in action among all classes of that people.

Former Resident Dies In Albion

Word was received here Wednesday afternoon, telling of the death at Albion, Pa., of Mrs. Myrtle Crum Carr, aged 72 years, former resident of this city, who passed away at her home there, Wednesday morning. Her husband, W. B. Carr preceded her in death a little over a year ago.

Mrs. Carr had resided here until several years ago, and is well known to many local residents. She is survived by three children, Harry, Edith, and Wilda; a brother, Walter Crum Stiner, of Martins Ferry, O.; and a brother, Harry B. Stiner, of this city.

Funeral services will take place on Saturday at 2 o'clock from the home in Albion, and interment will be made there.

Protest Dismissal Of Gen. MacArthur

NEW YORK, April 12—(INS)—AFL Longshoremen on New York's north river piers were ordered by their union chiefs today to stage a two-hour work stoppage in protest against the dismissal of General MacArthur.

Gene Sampson, union delegate, estimated that 2800 Longeshoremen will take part in the stoppage starting at 11 a.m.

He added that the dock workers will march from the piers to their union hall to "register their protest against the President's action."

Mahoning PTA Has Meeting

Elect Officers, Will Attend Conference

In the auditorium of Mahoning school, members of the Mahoning Parent-Teachers association gathered Tuesday evening.

Meeting opened with reading of the P. T. A. prayer by Mrs. Helen Smith and singing of "America" by the group. Principal Fred McLure gave the Ward Civic club report.

Mrs. Joseph Zumpella, president, read a communication from Mrs. Samuel Rashid, president of City P. T. A. Council, in respect to the placing of fluorine in the city water to protect teeth against decay. The unit voted to support this project.

Mrs. Zumpella read an invitation from McGill P. T. A. asking the unit to attend their next meeting, at which time they will present a program of special interest. Mention was also made of the southwest district conference which will be held in this city April 21. Members are expected to attend.

An auditing committee was appointed, consisting of Mrs. Anna Benson, Mrs. Earl Ruehle and Mrs. James Kennedy, to audit the treasurer's books. Miss Zahnizer's class won the attendance banner.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: president, Mrs. Harry F. Freeman; vice president, Mrs. James Rhodes; treasurer, Mrs. Louis Ezzo; secretary, Mrs. Edward Rainey. Representatives to City P. T. A. Council, Thomas Cenney, Rees Flannery, Mrs. Charles Catazo. Officers will be installed at the May meeting.

Meeting was turned over to the program committee chairman, Mrs. Edward Rainey, who presented a motion film entitled "The Family Circle".

The meeting adjourned and refreshments were served by Mrs. Stella Parady and her committee. Miss Anna Benson was teacher hostess. Aides were Mrs. Paul Russo, Mrs. Albert Santillo, Mrs. Margaret Piccirillo, Mrs. A. M. Finnin, Mrs. Clair Izzo, Mrs. Frank Komarc, Mrs. Joe Boron, Mrs. Earl Turk, Mrs. Leo Thompson, Mrs. Sylvester Domenick, Mrs. Joe Palumbo.

Mabel Wilson Lodge Plans Anniversary

In their lodge room on South Liberty street, members of the Mabel Wilson lodge, No. 567, gathered Tuesday evening with Mrs. T. J. LaRock presiding.

It was reported at the business session that nine applications have been received for membership and will be initiated at the next meeting.

The social committee appointed for meeting Tuesday, April 24, are Mrs. O. F. Shaffer, Mrs. Nick Perrotta, Mrs. Chester McCrum, and Mrs. Earl Davis. It was decided to make a contribution to the cancer fund.

For the anniversary party on May 8 the following committee was chosen: Mrs. Lila Thayer, chairman; Mrs. James Clair, Mrs. Philip Hogan, Mrs. Earl Davis and Mrs. LaRock.

A report was received on the sick members and that they were much improved. The door prize was won by Mrs. LaRock.

The meeting adjourned, members retiring to a local hotel for lunch.

Red Cross Campaign Closes, Good Results

Mrs. L. W. Fulton of North Cedar street, chairlady, states that the Red Cross campaign in the ward has been closed and the results were very favorable.

The chairlady says that the good showing was due to the untiring efforts of her co-workers, and she desires to thank them and the folks of the ward for their courtesy to the co-workers.

Give Memorial Service For Mrs. Joseph Gilmore

In the home of Mrs. Wylie Craig, of the Mt. Jackson-Edenburg road, the Friendship Circle of Mt. Jackson U. P. church were entertained on Tuesday evening. Mrs. Cecil Warder was co-hostess. The latter conducted the devotional period.

Mrs. James Crawford led in an impressive Memorial Service honoring the late Mrs. Joseph Gilmore,, a member of the Circle, who passed away recently. Mrs. Crawford read the 46th Psalm, and a poem entitled "Away," by J. Whitcomb Riley, and closed the service with prayer.

The business session was in charge of the president, Mrs. Whan Hopper. Plans were made to send home-made candy to boys of the church now in United States service; also for a project to raise funds to purchase equipment for the church kitchen.

Folllowing a social period, with sewing done, tasty refreshments were served by the co-hostesses. Next meeting with Mrs. James Crawford, Mt. Jackson, Tuesday, May 1.

Mahoning School Boys Out For Track Training

Rees Flannery, chairman of City Recreation Board, and teacher at Mahoning School, states that he has about 35 boys out for track and they are working diligently, and the weather will be soon O.K. for them to wear track suits.

At a recent contest John Georgas was champion rope jumper, accomplishing approximately 447 jumps. He won in his seventh grade bracket, which proved the best record for all grades. The girls also entered the contest with Betty Ferchaw winner of 9-207 class, with totals jumps of 296.

Marble shooting is again becoming popular, and the boys on Mahoning School are looking forward to the annual Optimist Club tournament. Three years ago, Andy Bovo won the contest for ward school, and last year Sam Russo came within one marble of winning the tournament.

Mr. Flannery says the boys of fourth and fifth grades are to be commended on endeavoring to keep the playground clean of scraps of paper, etc.

Seventh Ward Notes

Mrs. J. M. Conn, of 619 West Madison avenue who has been ill at her home for eight weeks, is somewhat improved.

Elks Install New Officers

Officers of the Sharon lodge of the Benevolent and Protected Order of the Elks, with George Robertson acting as grand exalted ruler, came to New Castle, Wednesday evening, to install the officers of the New Castle B.P.O.E. No. 69 at impressive ceremonies.

George K. Stitzinger, who was recently elected exalted ruler of the New Castle lodge was installed along with his supporting officers during the lodge rites. A large attendance was on hand for the ceremonies.

Installed, along with Mr. Stitzinger were: esteemed leading knight, Archie Thompson; esteemed loyal knight, Austin Cowmeadow; esteemed lecturing knight, Delbert T. Johnston; secretary, Verne R. Carr; treasurer, Edward J. Ryan; tiler, Charles Zimmerly; chaplain, John Nixon; esquire, Walter E. Gross; inner guard, David Taylor; trustees, Leslie Brindle, A. T. Eckles, E. L. Stitzinger, Jr., William J. Watkins, Jr., and Arthur H. Carpenter, Jr.

Visitors were also present from Oil City, in addition to the Sharon group. The New Castle lodge members went to Sharon last Wednesday, to install the officers there.

Driller Suffers Fractured Leg

Carl Storti, aged 42 years, of R. D. 1, Edenburg, employed as a block driller by the Michigan Limestone and Chemical company, was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital at 4 p.m. Wednesday for a fracture of the right leg, received when a large stone he was drilling rolled against his leg.

Some 12 per cent of the words used by Tennyson are of foreign derivation.

Highway Employe Burned By Blast

Harvey Peters, aged 35 years, of R. D. 2, Volant, was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital at 3:20 p.m. Wednesday for second degree burns of both hands and forearms, which were suffered when a shovelful of amesite which he was carrying burst into flame, igniting from a hot shovel.

The accident occured as Mr. Peters was working on Route 616 near Edenburg.

To Represent County BSA At Chicago Meeting

Local Delegates To Attend National Council May 25-26

At the Lawrence County Council meeting of the Boy Scout executive board board in the Greer building, it was decided to send representatives to the national meeting of the Boy Scouts of America, May 25 and 26, in the Hotel Stevens in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carbeau, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hildebrand and Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Mooney will attend this meeting, designed to introduce to local scout executives a more general picture of scouting.

At the meeting, council president Charles W. Carbeau listened to reports from district co-chairmen Dan Carroll of Kuskuski district, Erle Yahn representing the Connoquenessing district and Howard A. Butler of the Mahoning-Beaver district.

Operating committeemen John Hough, Ralph Davis, Ernest Hawk, Erle Yahn and S. A. Mooney also were heard from.

D. D. Blanchard, deputy regional executive from region three, brought greetings from his region and the committee then decided to meet tonight to interview applicants for the position of field scout executive to succeed John Lawson, who left the council Feb. 28.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

Meeting the After-Dance Problem

The parents of the high school crowd in Townville were worried. After every school dance, the youngsters piled into cars and rode all over the county for a bite to eat and some more dancing a la juke box. Though the dance was over by 12:30, many of the "kids" didn't get home until 2:30 or 3:00. And there were several bad wrecks.

Insisting that their young people come home as soon as the dance was over didn't work. Most of the youngsters agreed with Sally Wright who said, "I'd rather not go to the dance at all if I have to be treated like a baby while all the rest of the kids have a good time."

Finally the Nelson family made a suggestion that met the problem. "Why not ask some of your friends over for an after-dance midnight supper party?" Mrs. Nelson asked Florence. The idea clicked. Several of the other boys and girls planned similar parties.

Now it's "the thing to do" in Townville. The young people look forward to a couple of hours of eating talking and dancing in a friend's rumpus room. And the only people who don't like the situation are the owners of roadside "joints."

Junior GNCA Group To Meet

Definite steps towards organizing a young men's division of the Greater New Castle Association are expected to be taken Thursday night in The Castleton hotel.

Eben L. Reid, executive vice president of the GNCA, said a meeting has been called for 7:30 Thursday night at which time it is hoped to get the junior group under way.

Young men who are interested in such a movement are invited to attend the meeting and with the group that has been pushing the organization movement.

New York Stocks

Narrow Range In Day's Market

NEW YORK, Apirl 12.—(INS)—The stock market fluctuated irregularly within narrow price limits today. Changes were mostly limited to small fractions. Traders were disposed to move warily pending clarification of the uncertainties touched off by the change of military command in the far east.

Gains and losses appeared to be fairly evenly divided among the representative pivotal favorites. Among issues edging slightly higher were Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, Westinghouse Electric, Sears Roebuck, DuPont and American Telephone, while unchanged levels were quoted for U. S. Steel, General Motors and Allied Chemical.

Avco Manufacturing attracted attention when a block of 20,000 shares changed hands at 8, its previous closing level.

Anaconda eased ⅛ to 39½ in the metals, while Standard of New Jersey was unchanged at 105 in the oils.

Rails were generally on the firm side with modest advances credited to Southern Pacific, Union Pacific and Canadian Pacific. Rock Island eased ¼ to 53.

COLOR CHANGE

NEW YORK — (INS) — Many a husband may need a color chart to identify his wife in the days ahead. The perpetual masculine enigma of who is a natural blonde and who isn't is steadily being heightened, according to a survey by Tintair, the home hair coloring, which reports that about 45 per cent of the adult women in the United States—or an estimated 22,600,000 of the nation's distaff population of 75,400,000 — are now tinting their hair regularly.

STRESS COMFORT

NEW YORK—(INS)—Designers know how to make the most out of small apartments. They're stressing comfort and usefulness as well as attractive styling. Purely ornamental furniture is on the decrease. This is true of the new provincial as well as modern. Almost every piece of furniture being shown this spring is functional as well as decorative. Ranch style settings are coming into the limelight—often given a lift with 19th century accessories.

SUGAR STIR

SALT LAKE CITY — (INS) — A customer in a Salt Lake cafe poured five spoonsful of sugar into his cup of coffee and then proceeded to drink it without stirring. "Why don't you stir it?" asked the waitress. "Who likes it sweet?" was the reply.

Garden Notes For 1951 Season

The usual test as to whether soil is too wet is to press a small quantity in the palm of the hand. If too wet for working it will adhere in a solid mass and retain the impress of the hand. If it is dry enough to work it will crumble apart by itself.

Plants grown for seasoning, such as parsley, mint, thyme and sage, are not needed in large quantities. A few plants of each can be planted in the flower garden, thereby saving space in the vegetable garden.

Many kinds of dahlias can now be grown from seed. Start the seed early. Kinds to grow include the Coltness hybrids and even the large decorative types, the seed of which is often sold by dahlia specialists.

The practical home gardener will only grow the plants which give the largest return per unit of space. If space is limited omit sweet corn, winter squash, peas and potatoes.

Early blooming herbaceous perennials such as peonies, columbines and larkspurs should be given an application of a slow acting fertilizer as soon as the plants are uncovered.

Lettuce, radishes and peas should go into the ground at the earliest possible moment. Carrots and beets can be planted soon after.

Theodore G. Wallace On USS LeRay Wilson

Theodore G. Wallace, seaman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe K. Wallace of 1003 Wayne avenue, Ellwood City, Pa., is serving aboard the escort vessel USS LeRay Wilson operating with the Pacific Fleet.

The Wilson, recently re-commissioned from the Navy's "mothball fleet," is named for a Naval World War II hero.

PERIOD OF THE PATRIARCHS

ABRAHAM WAS THE FIRST OF THE LINE

Scripture— Genesis 12-17.

Abraham's journey into the land of Canaan.

"I am thy shield, and thy exceeding great reward."—Genesis 15:1.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

Today's lesson is the story of a man who "walked with God", had trust in Him and was rewarded. He did not always do right—like the rest of us—but he obeyed his Lord, and found his strength in Him.

Abram was a son of Terah, and a native of Ur, of the Chaldees. He and his father and nephew, Lot, moved to Haran, 600 miles distant, in northwest Mesopotamia.

Here it was that the Lord said to Abram, "Get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and from thy father's house, unto a land that I will show thee."

The Lord promised that He would make a great nation of Abram's people and would bless them.

So Abram departed with his wife, Sara, and the nephew, Lot, and they came to Canaan, and on a mountain on the east of Bethel, they pitched their tent and builded an altar to the Lord.

Going south there was a famine in the land, and so Abram and his wife went into Egypt where there was plenty. Now Sara was a beautiful woman and Abram was afraid that if it was known that she was his wife, the Egyptians would kill him so that they might possess her. He told her to say she was his sister.

Sara was taken to the Pharaoh's court, but the deception was discovered, and Pharaoh had Abram brought before him and rebuked him severely, and sent him away with his wife and all that he possessed. Abham did not trust in God in this matter and was greatly at fault.

In the next episode we see another and better side of Abram, however. Journeying to the south again they found that the land would not support the vast flocks and herds the two men owned between them. So Abram told Lot to choose which portion of the land he liked best and to go there, and he—Abram—would go the opposite way.

Lot looked about him, saw all the plain of Jordan, that it was well watered—"like unto the Garden of Eden"—and he chose that. Abram here showed his generous nature, and also Lot disclosed his more selfish character by snapping up his uncle's offer. So the two separated and Lot dwelt in the land of Sodom.

There were four kings who made war on the kings of Sodom, Gommorah, Admah, Zeboim and Bela, and conquered them. This is the first war mentioned in the Bible. For 12 years the people of the region were captives, then they rebelled.

It did them no good, however, for they were defeated, and Sodom and Gomorrah were sacked. Lot was captured with all his goods.

Abram, hearing of this disaster, organized his household servants, and pursued the enemy, attacking them at night, overthrowing them and releasing Lot and all his goods and people.

There is an interesting little episode told here on which we haven't space to enlarge it. It concerned the king of Sodom going to meet Abram, after the latter's victory, and of Abram's encounter with the king of Salem, who was "a priest of the most high God," and who blessed Abram.

Abram's faith in his Lord was greatly strengthened when God came to him in a vision to tell him to "Fear not: I am thy shield and thy exceeding great reward."

Now Abram and Sara had no children and it was a great relief to them. In despair, Sara suggested to Abram that he take a second wife, an Egyptian maid servant named Hagar.

He agreed and Hagar had a boy child who was later named Ishmael. Hagar then despised Sara, feeling superior to her, we may suppose, and became so unbearable, that Sara turned her out with her child.

Hagar wandered into the desert and would have died of hunger and thirst if the Lord had not sent an angel to comfort and advise her. The angel told her to go back to Abraham and Sara, to submit herself to Sara, and she would be rewarded.

God promised that Sara should bear a child and make Abram the "father of many nations."

And God made a covenant with Abraham, and said that thereafter his name should not be Abram, but Abraham, and his wife Sara would thenceforth be known as Sarah.

After many years the covenant God made with Abraham has come true. The descendants of Abraham are now repossessing the land of Palestine, using the very words of God to Abraham in advancing their claims.

Urges Recall Of Filipino Troops

MANILA, April 12. — (INS) — A Filipino legislator today urged immediate recall of his country's troops in Korea as a protest against President Truman's removal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur from his commands.

Congressman Manuel Cases said on the floor of the House that the Philippines should "vigorously protest" the President's action.

Cases asserted this action should be taken because "Filipinos are fighting and dying in Korea and Truman cannot, by playing the British game, just sacrifice them."

Device Guarantees Fresh Vegetables

CHICAGO — (INS) — Shippers of fresh fruits and vegetables soon will be able to bring their products to market with their original orchard and garden freshness, thanks to the inventive genius of a soft spoken Negro engineer.

Frederick McKinley Jones, 56, chief engineer for the United States Thermo Control Co., Minneapolis, demonstrated his most recent invention for the improvement of refrigeration units produced by his company in the Palmer House hotel in Chicago recently.

The new device controls humidity in much the same manner as the crisper compartment in a home refrigerator. Dampers linked to the refrigerator unit in a refrigerator car or trailer prevent the produce from "breathing."

After the cargo attains the desired degree of coolness a lid falls in place confirming the refrigerated air to the cold wall, thus preventing top and body icing, mold, wilting, slime and dehydration.

Thermo president Joseph A. Numero said the device eventually will be installed as standard equipment on the portable refrigeration units for both railroad cars and truck trailers.

Jones, whose formal education ended in the sixth grade, first demonstrated a mechanical flair in 1911, when he helped rebuild racing cars in Cincinnati.

A racing car driver himself, under the name "Casey" Jones, the engineer retired from the dirt track circuit in 1925, following an accident in which three men were killed and Jones was injured.

Jones was hired by Numero in the 1930's, when Numero was manufacturing motion picture equipment. A chance order for a truck refrigeration unit which Jones designed and built led to the formation of the present company.

Six Month Party On Anniversary

ATHENS, Ga. — (INS) — A six-months long birthday party is in progress at the University of Georgia.

It is the way professors, students, alumnae and friends are commemorating the university's 150th anniversary.

It was 166 years ago that the Georgia General Assembly granted the charter for the first state university in America.

Sixteen years later classes were called to order. Less than 30 students were enrolled and the university president doubled as faculty. He often held classes under the trees.

But the "guests" at the birthday party are not just celebrating the past. They are rejoicing over the great future that awaits the university.

Dr. O. C. Aderhold, the 17th president of the institution of learning, announced that a tremendous increase in the faculty, which now numbers 450, is expected. He said plans are being made for a $30,000,000 expansion of the physical plant to take care of the 10,000 enrollment expected by 1960.

Chancellor Harmon Caldwell outlined other large scale plans in his Charter Day speech. They included higher salaries for faculty members, a two million dollar research program, and expansions in the agricultural and general extension programs.

Among the congratulatory messages was one from Dr. A. Whitney Griswold, president of Yale university. The University of Georgia is considered Yale's southern counterpart. Its first two presidents were Yale graduates and its curriculum and early architecture were fashioned after that of Yale.

The University of Georgia's sesquicentennial celebration will continue through June.

LONG DISTANCE

COLUMBUS, O. — (INS) — The Deshler-Wallick hotel boasts a honeymoon suite at a special price for newly-weds and a bed eight feet long and eight and a half feet wide. As to why the unusual size, hotel manager Palmer Suddaby can only say: "I don't know whatever made me think of it."

PAYROLL

SALT LAKE CITY—(INS)—Government—state, local and federal—is the biggest employer in the state of Utah. A report by the Utah foundation said the number of government employes is climbing toward the World War II peak, paced by a 44 per cent increase in the federal payroll since the outbreak of hostilities in Korea.

Dump Causes Arrest Of Two

Visit Of Levine To Scene Results In Two Arrests Wednesday

District Attorney Sherman K. Levine and State Policeman Fred Norris took a ride out to the "Ohio garbage dump" in Mahoning township Wednesday afternoon.

As they stood there "enjoying" the fragrance of decaying garbage, Percy C. Thornton of Jacobs road, Youngstown, drove up with another load, they report.

He was arrested and taken before Alderman H. M. Reynolds of Union township. Thornton called his boss, L. L. Benzenhoeffer of Clegan Road, Poland, O., to whiz right over with some bail money.

Benzenhoeffer did so and as he walked into Reynolds' office he also was arrested.

Nuisance Charged

Both of them are charged with maintaining a common nuisance and conspiracy. Bond of $500 each was posted.

The dump is located on the river road west and north of Edenburg. Benzenhoeffer owns the ground and has converted it into a dump for the garbage of Poland and Struthers, it is stated. Residents of the township have been complaining of the stench and the possibility of vermin.

Road Supervisor Joseph Gennaro asked the district attorney to take some action in the matter and the visit to the dump was the result. Unfortunately, at least for Thornton, he chose the time of the D.A.'s arrival as the time to dump another load of garbage and the arrest followed.

WOMAN BREAKS WRIST

Mrs. Martha Fisher, aged 79 years, of 227 East Lincoln avenue, received treatment at the Jameson Memorial hospital on Tuesday for a fracture of the right wirst, which was received in a fall in her home April 6. X-Ray examination reevaled a fracture and she was treated and discharged.

DUMPING OF GARBAGE CAUSES ACTION BY COUNTY

County and township officials have moved against the dumping of garbage and trash from Ohio towns in open fields in Lawrence county. Here (left to right) State policeman Fred Norris, Joseph Gennaro, Mahoning township supervisor, and District Attorney Sherman K. Levine, view some 50 carloads of garbage dumped in an open field some distance west of Edenburg. The garbage is hauled from Ohio into Pennsylvania to be dumped.

Tri-County Council To Meet In Sharon

Deer Creek Group At Youth For Christ

Members of the Deer Creek United Presbyterian church youth group, with their pastor, Rev. Walter Kenyon, will have charge of the New Castle Youth for Christ rally Saturday at 7:45 o'clock in the First Baptist church, East at North street.

Rev. F. D. Marshall, director, will introduce the visitors, who will present a program of Gospel music, testimonies and a sermon.

Trio Of Slayers Given Another Month's Respite

PHILADELPHIA, April 12. — (INS)—Three Philadelphia slayers, who likely have "died a thousand deaths" despite nine stays of execution, will live on borrowed time for at least another month.

The trio—David Darcy, 26; Harry Zietz, 21, and Harold Foster, 26—won a ninth reprieve from the state's electric chair less than six hours before they were scheduled to die for a holdup-murder in Bucks county in 1947.

Gov. John S. Fine granted the respite until the week beginning May 7 shortly after the United States Third Circuit Court of Appeals in Philadelphia ordered a stay of execution for Darcy.

Third In Series Of Cub Leaders Courses Planned

Lawrence County Boy Scout Executive J. H. Hildebrand announced today that the third in the Cub Leaders Training Course series will be held Friday evening in the Penn Power Service building at 8 p.m.

H. W. Cummings, course leader, will have as discussion leaders, Charles Kelly of Pack 50, who is to speak on the "Cubbing Achievement Program," and Fred Rowland of Pack 33, New Wilmington, who will talk of cubbing activities and preparing cub scouts to enter scouting.

Mr. Hildebrand also announced that new cub packs were being formed at the Wayne township school, at Wurtemberg, and in New Castle, for which sponsorship has already been secured.

Sarcastic Call By Truman To Senator Tobey

WASHINGTON, April 12. — Sen. Tobey (R) N. H., disclosed today that President Truman called him up Tuesday and sarcastically offered to "help" with his own impeachment.

The phone call was the result of Tobey's statement Monday to a closed hearing of the Fulbright "influence" subcommittee that the President "could be impeached" if he is withholding evidence of fees paid to congressmen for government loans.

Tobey said that he did not record the Tuesday call although he made recordings of earlier calls from the President regarding the investigation of the Reconstruction Finance Corp.

Call From Truman

The Senator related that Mr. Truman opened the conversation, after a customary greeting, by saying that he understood Tobey was going to have him impeached.

Tobey said that when he protested that "that's not true," the President replied that he had the information from a source in whom he has complete confidence.

The senator said that when he again protested that he had no intention of pushing for impeachment, the President said this:

"Now let me say this to you, Senator—if you want to try to have me impeached, you just go right ahead and I'll help you."

Tobey said that with that statement, the connection was broken.

He commented that he was "unhappy" about the call since he always has had the "kindest personal feelings' toward Mr. Truman.

NEW YORK — (INS) — Hosiery shades for spring will be lighter, according to the experts. They'll stick pretty much to the tones of a woman's skin, but they'll have extra tinges of color. Most important color tinge will be the apricot glow. This orangey shade, softly muted when it's put on the leg, gives the finished effect of a rich suntan, and a bare-legged illusion.

FINGER TRAPPED IN BUS SEAT

Robert B. Whitman Is Given Promotion

WITH THE THIRD INF. DIV. IN KOREA—Robert B. Whitman, serving with United Nations forces in Korea, has recently been promoted to the rank of corporal, it has been announced by headquarters, 15th infantry regiment.

Corporal Whitman, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walt Whitman, 345 New Castle street, New Wilmington, is a member of Company "F", 15th infantry regimental combat team.

The United States, with one-sixth of the world's population operates 51 percent of world's trucks and buses.

The walrus uses his tusks to mow down or tear aside fields of seaweed among which he finds his shellfish prey.

Spearhead Shows Old Asia Trail

BEND, Ore. — (INS) — A spearhead found on a barren Alaskan foothill indicates man's ancient trail from Asia to the Oregon country.

Archeologists believe Asiatic tribesmen and their descendents who crossed the Brooks mountains of Alaska wandered along a circuitous trail before reaching Central Oregon some 9500 years ago.

This date was recently established by applying the newly-developed radioactive carbon method of dating materials to sandals left by cave dwellers in the Fort Rock country north of Bend.

The fluted stone spearhead found in Northern Alaska has been identified as that produced by Folsom man, whose remains date his occupation of the American Southwest at some 10,000 years ago.

Smithsonian Institute scientists believe the ancestors of Folsom man crossed the Bering land connection from Asia and followed the McKenzie River valley south along the east slope of the Rockies.

They are thought to have been following a great migration of animals that has deserted parts of Northern Asia for greener North American pastures.

There is a possibility that the tribesmen reached the Central Oregon region direct from the northern plains, but prevailing belief is that the visitors first went into the southwest and then ventured north to what is now Central Oregon.

Annual Report Reading Eased

PHILADELPHIA—(INS) — You don't need to be a Philadelphia lawyer to understand the annual reports of the Girard Trust Company.

For interspersed with the usual pie charts and graphs that make other reports rather dull reading, are humorous cartoons that appeal even to the piggy-bank saver.

It's all the idea of Robert H. Wilson — formerly a newspaper man—who is now a vice-president at the bank.

He thinks it's a good policy to knock some of the stuffiness out of business statements.

One cartoon in this year's 114th annual report depicts a queue of vice-presidents about to enter a room marked "vice-presidents' dining-room."

One financial bigwig is remarking to another of his ilk, "I didn't know we had so many of them."

Another cartoon shows a long line of bank customers waiting patiently to do business with a luscious little blonde teller. Male tellers are leaning on their elbows in adjacent windows with nothing to do.

A monetary mogul observes to colleague—"Maybe the personnel department was right after all."

Wilson thinks there is a lesson in the Girard Report for businessmen as well as bankers.

"In its own interest," he says, "American business has a fascinating story to tell. It must learn to present it with all the inherent fascination it has."

Anti-Reds Enjoy Real Loud Laugh

VIENNA—(INS)—The echo of a loud laugh from a group of anti-Communist peasants in Hungary drifted today through the Iron Curtain.

Two years ago the Budapest government seized the huge estates of Counts Boncompagni and San Martino in the district of Kisszallas.

It split up the 24,274 acres among the peasants of the region and told them to produce for the state.

The peasants, notoriously anti-Red, took the land gladly enough. But they made no promise.

The outcome of this "typical" experiment was related in the official government organ Szabad Nep, which said:

"there's nothing like it" ...

See Leveling Off Of Prices

Agriculture Officials See Price Trend Of Next Few Months

WASHINGTON, April 12: —(INS)—Agriculture officials see a leveling off of prices during the next several months.

Government economists say that in the next two or three months large consumer supplies of most commodities and a slackening in consumer buying may take some of the upward push out of prices.

But while the buying public, including farmers, will get a short interlude of more or less stable prices, the experts warn that the breather will not last much longer.

By early summer, they say, the upward pressure on prices is likely to be renewed as consumer income and output of civilian goods is cut off in favor of military production.

The Bureau of Agriculture Economics reports that farmers' gross income during March is estimated at 2.1 billion dollars, 13 per cent higher than in February and about 26 per cent more than a year ago.

The gain in farmers' cash receipts from marketings over February, the experts say, was due to a large volume of sales—because of the longer month of March—as prices declined slightly on the average.

Farmers took in about 6.4 billion dollars from marketings in the first quarter of 1951. That is about 16 per cent more than they took in during the first quarter of 1950.

The greatest herd of cattle ever to roam the face of the earth is scattered throughout the world's grazing ranges.

The Agriculture department estimates the world's cattle numbers at 806.3 million head. That number is about two per cent more than last year and a new record of cattle population.

The House Appropriations committee has been told that speculative trading limits on soybeans and eggs probably will be announced shortly.

J. M. Mehl, chief of the Commodity Exchange authority, told hearings on agricultural appropriations that most of the spade-work on setting up speculative trading limits on those commodities is near completion and "limitations will be in effect before the beginning of the next crop year."

FARM NET INCOME LOWEST SINCE WAR

In 1950, America's six million farmers had the lowest net income of any year since the war. Farmers earned $13 billion, which was eight per cent below 1949 and 27 per cent below the record year of 1947.

Farm prices began to rise in the middle of 1950. This halted the decline that had been taking place since January, 1948. Had it not been for a sharp rise in farm prices since the outbreak of war in Korea, the net income figure for 1950 would have been much lower.

Farm income appears to be improving this year. Farm prices continue to rise while costs increase at a somewhat slower rate.

CHECK FARM MACHINES FOR SAFE OPERATION

The most important step in the safe operation of farm machinery is to put it in good condition before field work starts.

Spring planting season is here. More tractors than ever before soon will be working in fields with plows, cultivators, disks, and planters. Hitches, seats, clutches, wheels, brakes, steering mechanism, and unguarded revolving parts need occasional checking for defects. Many fatal accidents have been caused by failure of makeshift seats and unguarded power take-off shafts.

Clean all dirt, trash, and grease from platforms, pedals, foot rests, or steps to assure safe footing.

Special care should be taken in checking home-made labor-saving equipment for accident hazards. The operator's safety often is overlooked in development of this type of equipment.

Timely servicing reduces accidents and costly field breakdowns, and makes farm work more pleasant. Poorly conditioned farm machinery is irritating and fatiguing to the operator. It reduces his altertness and encourages carelessness. Field accidents often result when the operator attempts to get by with faulty operations which should have been corrected before the machine was taken to the field.

Fourth Infantry To Be Sent To Europe

WASHINGTON, April 12—(INS)—The defense department announced today that the Fourth Infantry Division has been ordered to join Gen. Eisenhower's forces in Europe.

A spokesman said the division will "start moving" within 30 days. This will be the first major addition to U. S. forces in Europe since Eisenhower assumed his command of Atlantic Pact forces.

The brief announcement did not say where the division will be stationed. The division, at full strength of more than 18,000 men, and is now at Ft. Benning, Ga.

Second Dividend To Be Paid GI's On Life Insurance

WASHINGTON, April 12—(INS)—The veterans administration said today it will start paying this month a second GI life insurance dividend of $685 million to eight million World War II veterans who now hold policies.

VA officials would not pinpoint the date the checks will start rolling out other than to say the huge financial operation will begin within the next three weeks. Dividends will average $85 for each policy holder.

J-Y Hive Dance Will Be Friday

"J-Y Hive", dance project for junior high Y-Teens and boys of junior high schools, will be held Friday evening from 7:30 to 10:00 o'clock at the YWCA. This activity is sponsored by the Teen-Age committee of the YWCA, a red feather agency in the community.

Those attending the last "J-Y Hive" were entertained for the evening at the expense of the "J-Y Hive" council and Teen-Age committee budget.

Refreshments were served free of charge to all attending. Music for the evening was provided by the cooperation of Local No. 27, musicians of New Castle of the American Federation of Musicians through a grant from the music performance trust fund of the recording industry, and was especially enjoyed by all.

Today's Fashion Flash

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

HONOLULU, April 12—(INS)—Honolulu—being prolific in posies—is promoting a new summer mode: fresh flower hats.

Leading designer for this millinery for millionaires and florists' wives is Francis Thompson, who insists that the trend is "practical, even in the United States."

It's not costly to make a fresh flower chapeau, she says, because all a woman needs as a base is a band or "shape" of inexpensive net, straw or fabric. A last year's throw-away hat will do beautifully when it's stripped of its trimming.

Then the lady can buy flowers (imported from Hawaii, of course, where their stems are sealed in water tubes) and whip them, with heavy thread, around the crown or the brim.

In Honolulu, where flowers are cheap as gigolos, almost any exotic bouquet will do. But in the U. S., hardy varieties are suggested. Tops on the list are anthurium (big, red and waxy, price at $3 to $69), vanda orchids (dainty and white, 50c up), or wood roses (dried posies of beige coloring which last for weeks).

Miss Thompson points out that for spectator sports flowers are often out of place.

Fresh and shiny green leaves are preferred.

Penn State Alumni Will Meet June 5

Rip Engel, Penn State football coach, and Ridge Riley, alumni secretary, will be principal speakers in New Castle at a meeting of Penn State alumni on June 5, it is reported.

Meeting will be held for the purpose of organizing Penn State alumni in Lawrence County. The organization will be formed and officers elected at the meeting.

An effort will be made to contact all of the alumni in the county prior to the date of the meeting, but in case some are missed they are urged to attend the meeting.

Air Defense Planes To Fly Over Area In Test Exercise

PITTSBURGH, April 12—(INS)—Some 250 ground-air observers will man the 11 Allegheny County observation posts Saturday and Sunday when the eastern air defense command planes will fly over the area as part of a nation-wide test exercise.

The watchers will identify approaching aircraft and report to the Pittsburgh filter center where the courses of the planes will be plotted.

Northwest Is Most Beautiful

SEATTLE, Wash., April 12 — (INS)—If the audience will please come to attention, we shall rise and sing "America, the Beautiful" before launching into the business of the day.

I have just arrived in this metropolitan jewel of the northwest after a four-hour flight from San Francisco which is so fantastically beautiful that it calls for all stops out on superlatives. I feel not unlike the Baedeker scout who first spotted the Taj Mahal.

Americans save their pennies for years to go to Europe to gander at sights that can't hold a candle to the poetic grandeur of the cascades, that vast range of blue, often snow-capped mountains that lift endlessly into the sky as far as the eye can see.

Passengers on this swift commercial flight by Convair on Western Air Lines pay merely for fast service between two of the most beautiful cities in the United States. But what they get in addition is an incomparable panorama of one of the world's most impressive mountain ranges.

Notable Sights

For $27 worth of ticket—and what can you get today for $27 except perhaps a sirloin steak—passengers on today's smooth, clear flight saw the gleaming, snowy peaks of six of the most majestic mountains in America; Shasta, Jefferson, Hood, Adams, St. Helens, and Rainier, lifting their heads from masses of comulus cloud.

By flattening one's nose against the window, it was impossible at one time after taking off from Portland, Oregon, to glimpse five of those snowy fingers reaching into the sky. From that vantage point, 12,000 feet up in a clear and sunny sky, we could glimpse all but Shasta, which had long since melted into the air.

We took off from San Francisco, where the wondrous green hills lift themselves so abruptly from the sparkling waters of the golden gate, and where the great bridges look like thin, silken threads from the air. We flew northward over the green, fertile valley of the Sacramento River until suddenly we were over wooded mountains and the great, white bulk of Shasta loomed chaste and remote to the East.

So Beautiful and Unfamiliar

The world was now so beautiful and unfamiliar that I pawed frantically through all that useless printed matter that air carriers provide passengers, but I could not find the one thing I wanted most; a simple map.

But the obliging stewardess went forward and came back with the pilot's map and the reassuring word that he knew the way and didn't really need it.

So in awe and wonder I was able to identify Crater Lake, that blue sapphire now set in glistening white at some 8,500 feet above sea level. And that great system of inland lakes, curling like blue fingers among the greening mountains, turned out to be Shasta Dam, one of the nation's great engineering and irrigation projects.

Then as the massed cascades receded into the east like an endless blue ocean, there followed in stunning white succession Mount Jefferson, 10,495 feet high; Mount Hood, brooding over Portland at 11,245 feet; Mount Adams, 12,307 feet, Mount St. Helens, 9,671 feet and finally, the twin peaks of Mount Rainier, 14,408 feet.

Peerless Monarch

Mount Rainer, 246 feet higher than Shasta, is the Peerless Monarch of the cascades, towering like a pristine guardian above Seattle. Because of its twin peaks, it looks like a Titan's saddle, covered with an ermine throw.

Like Shasta, it rose resplendent in the sun from a froth of white clouds at its base. When we landed in Seattle, we had lost the giant, for the clouds hid it from the city. But we had been above the clouds and had seen not only Rainier but the other five white peaks in all their beauty, bathed in sun.

Never before in all my life have I had so much beauty for $27 (including tax). And if anyone in the audience is thinking of taking the wife and kids to Europe to see the sights this summer, think twice before going thataway. Won't hurt a mite, for once, to come thisaway and see what America, the beautiful, has to offer for free.

General Missing

SOUTH KOREAN Maj. Gen. Kim Paik Il, 37, is missing and it is believed he may have been kidnaped by a pro-Communist Korean pilot. He was last seen March 28 as he boarded a light liaison plane bound for an east coast base in South Korea. (International)

Incident That Caused Truman Move, Mystery

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON

WASHINGTON, April 12.—The greatest mystery in Washington today is the exact incident which provoked President Truman into ousting Gen. Douglas MacArthur from all his command powers in the Far East.

The president specifically announced he was dismissing Gen. MacArthur because he "is unable to give his wholehearted support to the policies of the United States government and of the United Nations in matters pertaining to his official duties."

The White House made public a list of communications between MacArthur and the joint chiefs of staff. But none of these substantially supports the president's declared reason for firing MacArthur.

Widespread Mystery

Hence the widespread mystery as to exactly why the president acted as he did.

It seems apparent the president made up his mind sometime Tuesday to fire MacArthur. This would indicate that something new happened Monday or Tuesday.

Washington observers agree the only possible new incident was some report submitted to him by Army Secretary Frank Pace, who reached Tokyo Monday and spent two hours in conference with MacArthur.

Some very influential administration sources say a secret report from Pace brought about the president's action. They add the report was transmitted in code to the State department and relayed to the president in this unusual fashion. Ordinarily, the army secretary would communicate with the White House through army radio channels, even if code were necessary.

Curious Development

But another curious development is that these sources are divided as to what Pace reported.

One group says the army secretary told the president that Gen. MacArthur had shown him his resignation from all Far Eastern commands and that the resignation was dated Friday of this week—April 13.

The resignation supposedly was accompanied by a major attack on the present United Nations policies in Korea. The Friday the thirteenth date on the letter was regarded as an ill omen to the Truman administration.

A second group discounts the letter and says Pace asked the general whether he proposed to abide by the president's directive of March 24, advising MacArthur that he must clear all further statements with either the Defense or State departments.

This group adds that MacArthur gently but firmly declined to submit any statement he regarded as vital to the tactical position of his armies in Korea to General Marshall, Secretary Acheson or anybody else. MacArthur is pictured as insisting he had spoken only as a field commander, commenting on the tactical situation in the field.

Both groups agree that Pace transmitted a message to the president and presidential action followed.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

FATHERS IN DISGUISE

Bill Brown has a chip on his shoulder when it comes to traffic "cops". He's gotten into trouble a number of times because of his attitude that they're "not going to push me around".

Mrs. Martin Green is known among her friends for the fact that she's so nice with their old fathers. Seemingly she would rather chat with them than talk over things with "the girls".

Tom Marvin has trouble at the plant because he thinks every foreman tries to "throw his weight around".

These are a few of the everyday ways in which our childhood relationships with our fathers may have affected us. In a very real sense, psychologically, the traffic officer, Mrs. Green's friends' fathers and Tom Marvin's "boss" are fathers in disguise.

If we have had pleasant, give-and-take, companionable relationships with our fathers, we're likely to find it easy to get along with people in authority. For we act toward them, so far as our feelings are concerned, in the ways we did toward our fathers. But, unfortunately, the opposite is also true. Domineering, authoritative dads build patterns of expectation in us that continue to show themselves even in our adult lives when we come into contact with "fathers in disguise".

Understanding that this sort of thing happens will often help us meet such situations in a more grown-up and mature way.

RETURNING CALLS

"A remote neighbor whom I have never before met called on me to ask me to serve on a committee. While she was a pleasant woman, I have no interest in establishing a friendship with her and wondered if I would be considered rude if I failed to return her call. I will, nevertheless, do the necessary social requirements".

Answer: All social calls should be returned within a week or ten days. These include calls on new neighbors. However, this call does not come in the category of a neighborly social call. It was more or less of a business call, which does not require a return visit. I am assuming that the call was brief and made during the day.

If it was a combined business and social call made as "one neighbor to another" the woman accompanied by her husband, that call should be returned. You need not continue your acquaintance if you prefer not to do so; but to neglect this latter return call would be rude.

A daytime business call requires no return visit. At future meetings, the two women speak cordially. Of course, sometimes such calls are the nucleus of a close friendship if they have enjoyed each other's company.

Question: Another girl and I expect to stay at a hotel soon and would like a little advice on hotel etiquette. Do we ask the clerk, on our arrival, what prices their rooms are? How do we register? When do we pay our bill? Must we leave our key at the desk when we go out?

Answer: It is always preferable to have a reservation at a hotel. You might, today, find yourself without shelter if you appear without one. You should ask for prices and then accept a room within your financial means. You should both register your names and addresses, inserting "Miss" or "Mrs". You pay your bill at the end of your visit when you check out. Some hotels request that guests leave keys at the desk when they go out; but it is optional in most.

Mahoning Valley Civic Club Will Have Dinner Event

Members of the Mahoning Valley Civic club will hold their annual spring dinner Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the Edenburg Methodist church.

Members of the executive board are in charge of the dinner.

For supper now and then, serve thin dessert pancakes spread with jam and rolled up like a jelly roll. Sprinkle the pancakes with confectioners' sugar, and serve to a delighted family.

POLICE PUZZLED

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—Police were puzzled today by an apparent house-breaking at the home of noted Harvard anthropologist Dr. Ernest A. Hooton, in which nothing appeared to have been stolen. The home was ransacked but police were told by Mrs. Fred Robbins, daughter of the professor, who is vacationing in Bermuda, that she did not think anything was missing.

GOING HIGHBROW

NEW YORK, April 12.—(INS)—The comic strip is going highbrow.

The Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York announced today it will offer an exhibition next month of the work of America's leading cartoon artists.

When an airplane travels at a speed of 425 miles or more an hour, it is traveling faster than a bullet.

New Castle Indians Start Drive To Fill Ball Park Opening Day

Set Goal Of 3,000 For Opening Day, May 6, Against Niagara Falls

The New Castle Indians baseball club today launched a concerted drive to fill Flaherty Memorial Field on opening day, Sunday, May 6th with 3,000 fans.

Tickets sales started today. Niagara Falls will provide the opening opposition here in the Class C Middle-Atlantic league.

Scarazzo Conducts Fine Meeting

President Al Scarazzo conducted one of the most enthusiastic meetings of stockholders and board of directors last night ever held here, with upwards of 150 jamming the New Penn hotel meeting room and many standing in the hall.

Interest ran rampant as the lovers of baseball heard glowing talks by the club officials on what has been done so far to bring New Castle the kind of baseball that the city deserves.

The New Castle team will start training here next Monday at 10 o'clock. There are but 17 days left until the 1951 season swings open on May 3rd at Butler. Manager Al Milnar will be here Sunday to take charge.

Prices Announced

The board of directors last night meeting with President Scarazzo following the meeting set the following prices for the season: opening day general admission tickets $1, box seats $1.25 for opening day and all year long. General admission seats for single games for males for the season 79 cents, for ladies 54 cents, for children 12 to 16, 25 cents, and all children under 12 accompanied by parents or adults free. The reason for the four-cent increase over last year is the amusement tax set by the city fathers.

Season box seats will sell for $55 for the 65 home games, with general admission seaosn tickets at $32.50 for the 65 home games.

Downtown Ticket Office

Business manager Jack Lewis has made arrangements with the New Penn hotel management to act as a central downtown ticket office this year and will handle tickets of all kinds for all home games. This will save the fans from standing in line at the gate.

Tickets for the opening game can be bought from any of the 25 board of directors or stockholders, and also the New Penn hotel.

It is up to the fans of New Castle whether or not they want organized baseball in this city.

Steve Magula Signs

President Scarazzo announced last night the signing of a contract by the veteran Steve Magula who will be given the third base job this spring. Magula was with Niagara Falls and the Senators last year. He suffered a leg injury at Vandergrift last July after joining the Senators and was forced out of the game the rest of the year. Magula is a terrific hitter and will be a valuable asset.

Manager Al Milnar is due back from Florida Friday and will probably have a couple of young hurlers with him.

Ike Williams Wins Decision

Fritzie Pruden Is Easy Victim

CHICAGO, April 12—(INS)—Lightweight champion Ike Williams entered the scramble for the welterweight title today on the basis of his undisputed victory over Fitzie Pruden.

The bulldog-faced battler from Trenton, N. J., won an easy 10-round decision over the Canadian fighter at the Chicago stadium last night.

Williams out-boxed and outpunched the recent welterweight sensation. The 135-pound champion never floored Pruden but beat him to the punch time after time.

Ike said he "wasn't certain" that he could beat all the ranking welterweights. He added that he would be the 147-pound champion, however, if National Boxing Association titleholder Johnny Bratton is all I have to beat." Williams has beaten Bratton three times.

Plan To Enter Softball League

Nick George, business manager of the Shadyside A. A. has announced that members will meet Friday evening at 8 o'clock, at 422½ East Washington to discuss plans for entering the city softball league.

Anyone wishing to play for Shadyside should attend Friday's meeting which has also been scheduled for the purpose of electing a manager.

Royals Defeat Knickerbockers

Need One More Win For Title

NEW YORK, April 12.—(INS)—Rochester Royals are one game away today from a clean sweep of the final playoffs for the championship of the National Basketball Association.

The Royals took a 3-0 lead in their best-of-seven series last night when they turned back the New York Knickbockers, 78 to 71, at New York's 69th regiment armory.

The Royals, who hadn't won a game in New York all year, led only by 62-61 with three minutes left, but Arnie Risen, Jack Coleman, Arne Johnson and Bob Davies went on a 14-point tear that put the game out of the Knickerbockers' grasp.

Philadelphians Win Team Title

BOSTON, April 12 — (INS) — Three fighting Philadelphians, each with dramatic finals victories, brought the team title back to their home city today at the end of the 64th National Amateur Boxing Championships.

The final bell of the three-day tournament saw seven new champions crowned, and one of last year's kings—heavyweight Norvell Lee—retain his title.

All eight were rewarded for their efforts by being automatically selected for a rtans-Atlantic trip in June to compete in a series of tournaments in Europe.

Sylvan Heights Golf Loop To Meet Sunday

Sylvan Heights golf league will meet Sunday afternoon at the club house at 2 o'clock, it is announced by acting president Eddie Gunther.

All teams that are planning on entering the league should be represented at the meeting.

Mike Gipp ,who caught for the New Castle Nats in 1949, batted .234 in 55 games with Charlotte of the class B Tri-State league in 1950.

Trout Season To Open Sunday

HARRISBURG, April 12—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Fish Commission today reported the state's streams "heavily-stocked" with trout for the opening of the 1951 season April 15 at 5 p.m.

A creel limit of 10 trout six inches or larger will be enforced, the commission emphasized. The season April 15 at 5 a.m.

Meanwhile, acting Forests and Waters Secretary M. F. Draemel appealed to anglers to take every precaution to prevent fires during the season.

Sportsmen To Banquet Tonight

Affair To Be Held In Cathedral

Approximtaely 1,000 men, women and children, who are enthusiasts either of fishing, hunting, hiking or some other form of outdoors life will assemble at 6:30 tonight in the Cathedral banquet hall to attend the banquet to be held by the Lawrence County Sportsman's' association.

According to Maurice Nielsen, general chairman, Dick Costley, a gifted orator, who is supervisor of the Allegheny National Forest, will deliver the main address. Elmer Brown, president of the Lawrence County Sportsman's Council, will act as toastmaster.

Music will be provided during the dinner which will start promptly at 6:30 p .m. Following the Costly address, presentation of more than 100 awards, all useful in outdoors life, will be made to diners. Later motion films of fishing and hunting scenes will be displayed.

Pirates-Yankees Game Rained Out

PITTSBURGH, April 12.—(INS)—Rain and wet grounds forced the Pittsburgh Pirates to cancel their exhibition game with the New York Yankees at Forbes field today.

It was the third straight postponement for the Buccos who had to call off previous road games with the Philadelphia Phillies.

Last year the Yanks and Pirates were scheduled to meet at Forbes field and had to cancel because of rain.

No single standout hope for the 77th running of America's biggest horse race at Churchill Downs May 5 has yet developed from the present winter season, although the Santa Anita Derby winner, Rough 'n Tumble, is among the eligibles.

City Tenpinners Enjoy Banquet

Trophies Presented To Various Winners

Some 60 members of the City Tenpin league gathered at 662 East Washington street last night for their annual banquet, and enjoyed not only a very satisfying dinner, but also had a lively time of after dinner talks.

The dinner consisted of spaghetti followed by steak or chicken that left little to be desired in the way of food. No one left the table still hungry.

John Bigler Toastmaster

Following the serving of the meal, president of the league John Bigler assumed the role of toastmaster and in his jovial manner introduced the following speakers: William F. DeCarbo, Charles "Bugs" Walther, secretary of the league Paul LaScola and "Babe" Picarro acting for Johnny Brincko.

The final part of the program was given over to passing out trophy awards to the various winners during the 1950-51 season.

Trophies went to the following being proceded by a short talk by President Bigler: Championship Moose team, captained by "Red" Adams; high average for the league, George Shook 185; high team average for three games, Art Meeks team captained by George Shook, 2903; high team single game for season, Johnny Brinckos team, accepted by "Nails" Nocera, 1010; high individual single game, Pete Quinn, 263; high individual three games, Nick Cavalier, 672.

Officers of the league were: John Bigler, president; Joe Mescall, vice-president, and Paul La Scola, secretary.

Maple Leafs Top Canadiens

Toronto Takes Lead In Series

TORONTO, April 12—(INS)—Toronto's favored Maple Leafs are off to a fast start in the finals of the National Hockey League's Stanley Cup playoffs, but they know they can't afford to take things easy.

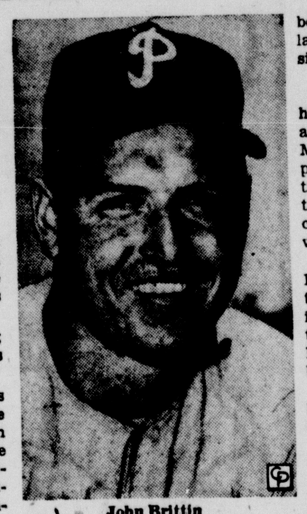
The Leafs took a 1-0 lead over the Montreal Canadiens last night when Sid Smith converted a Tod Sloan pass at 5:51 of the first "sudden death" overtime period. The score was 3 to 2.

A standing room crowd of 13,939 fans saw the battling Canadiens come storming back twice to tie the score and send the game into an extra session.

The second game of the best-of-seven series will take place Saturday night in Toronto.

EX-ILLINOIS STAR IS BIDDING FOR PHILLIE PITCHING SPOT

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor



John Brittin

CLEARWATER, Fla.—The youth re-building program instituted by Bob Carpenter when he took over the Futile Phillies of seven years ago has brought the club several outstanding young pitchers who banded together last season to give the Phils their first pennant in 35 years.

One of those young stars, Curt Simmons, was enjoying his best season in 1950 and helping the Phils win a pennant when he was called into the Army.

Replacing him is a tough job; one of Manager Eddie Sawyer's "musts" in training camp here.

The Philly youth movement has brought several new faces to the home club this spring. One of them may click. And that one may be John Albert (Jack) Brittin, a 25-year-old righthander who first attracted notice when he was pitching for the University of Illinois.

Brittin, who has been in pro ball just four years, has been impressive in camp work. Sawyer likes his stuff and Brittin may stick around long enough to help.

His record last year doesn't tell the true story of his promise. He appeared in 39 games with Toronto and won but seven while losing 11.

But Toronto was no leader; the club finished in seventh place.

The year before Jack had a fine record. He won 21 games while losing but seven for Wilmington in the Inter-State league. He was selected the league's most valuable player.

His first pro experience was with Danville and Terre Haute in 1947 when he won four and lost five. In 1948 his record was 6-7 but that also doesn't tell the story.

In the 1948 season he lost six games as a relief pitcher and after being put in as a starter in the last month of the campaign he won six straight.

BRITTIN started playing ball in high school at Athens, Ill., and after one year he transferred to Morrisonville, Ill., High where he played second base and pitched. In three years his record was 50 victories and only eight defeats. Included in his high school record were four no-hitters.

He entered the University of Illinois and played baseball his first two seasons. He had a 7-2 record in his final season and led his team to the N. C. A. A. finals at New Haven, Conn., where he was beaten by New York U. by a 2 to 1 score.

A teammate at Illinois was Marv Rotblatt, who later went up with the White Sox.

Before joining the Phillies Brittin was in the Chicago Cubs' organization. He played a few games for Davenport where he had a 1-1 record. He was released and signed by the Phils.

Brittin is single and lives with his parents in Springfield, Ill. He has four brothers, all of whom play ball but none of whom has made the pro game yet.

He has played some basketball and hopes to get a part-time job next winter coaching that game.

Brittin is an inch under six feet and weighs 175 pounds. He shows a lot of poise out on the mound.

Hornets-Barons Clash Tonight

PITTSBURGH, April 12—(INS)—The Cleveland Barons, who have played themselves back into condition, will invade Pittsburgh tonight for their game against the Hornets in the American Hockey League's championship series.

In the opening game and for most of the second contest, the Barons were outplayed, outhustled and outscored by the Hornets.

Pittsburgh had rolled to its seventh straight victory in the playoffs and seemed on the way toward the title when the Barons came to life in the final period of the second game and evened the series at one-all with a 5-4 triumph.

HILLERS TO MEET

Eden-Hiller baseball team of the North County league will meet tonight at 7:30 at Arena's, it is announced by Chris Carbon.

For the fourth time in five years, a Penn State athletic coach in 1951 will observe his silver anniversary. Charlie Speidel, wrestling coach, was preceded in this distinction by Pop Rutherford, the late Leo Houck, and Bill Jeffrey.

Moses is a long-time favorite with Philadelphia fans, and one of the best hitters ever seen at Shibe Park, where he first came in 1935. During the next seven years until he left for Chicago, he peppered the right field fence with .320 consistency.

Drive Slow—Children Move Fast!

New Castle Team In Penn-Ohio Loop

New Castle will have a representative in the Penn-Ohio golf league this year, it is reported. This city's entry will be known as Franks. Members of the team are Bob Palmer, Ezz Palmer, Fred Palmer, Fred Lombardo, John Gennock, Pete DiMicco, John Schneider and Stan Bukowski.

All matches will be played on Sundays, with the opening match scheduled for April 29 at the Yankee Run course near Sharon. Home matches will be played at the Castle Hills golf course.

Other teams entered in the league are Youngstown, Sharon, Warren, O., and Girard, O. Youngstown, led by Dr. Frank "Chips" Bellino, is defending champion.

A meeting of the league will be held at the home of Dr. Bellino Monday, April 23, it is reported.

HERE and THERE IN SPORTS LAND

NEXT SUNDAY, April 15, at 5:00 a.m., the long awaited trout season opens. Calls are coming in, one after another, wanting to know where the best fishing may be found. The first question is usually followed by "What bait do you think should be used?"

It is simple to answer the first question. All Pennsylvania streams suitable for trout have been thoroughly stocked. Some with one species, some with another and some with at least two. Brook, rainbow and brown. It depends on what kind are best suited to the streams. This is decided far in advance of the stocking, by fish commission specialists.

In attempting to answer the question on what lures to use, one guess is as good as another. If there is not too much rainfall before the opening day, minnows and wet flies may meet with good success. If the streams are high, the common red garden worm will be best during the early days of the season.

When hooked through the middle with both ends free to move, this worm is an attractive tid-bit to trout. It is often the reason boys are seen along streams with nice stringers of trout while their older brothers with expensive artificial lures go home empty handed.

When using artificial lures, one must lose little time in setting the hooks, but with minnows and worms, sufficient time must be allowed for the fish to take the bait. I wish I could tell exactly what kind of bait will be best to try the opening day. I'd try it myself, writes Seth Myers of the Federation of Sportsmen.

TONIGHT one thousand men, women and children will attend the Lawrence County Sportsman's Association banquet at 6:30 o'clock in the Cathedral. . . . Relative to the late Eddie Kennedy, former boxer and referee of Pittsburgh who died Sunday, he was a close pal of Patsy Brannigan. He boxed some of the best lightweights and welterweights of his time, among them Yock Henninger, Jack McClelland (father of the ex-commissioner of boxing and now Allegheny county coroner) and Loudon Campbell. Only McClelland who once vanquished Abe Attel, the featherweight champ, in an overweight match, now remains alive of this group. He refereed the Tiger Flowers-Harry Greb bout at Sandusky and was one of the best third men to referee in Jolly Bowl. . . . The Associated Press poll has selected Wilbur (Fats) Henry for the Hall of Fame All-America football team. He starred at W. & J. and played pro football. Among those who played against McHenry is Miz Dart when Miz played on the line at Westminster. . . . Elkins Brothers fights Bob Baker Friday night in New York.

WHEN the sports followers of the future compare notes of the "greats" of the athletic fields, the name of Ben Hogan undoubtedly will be ranked high among the stars of golf's hall of fame.

Bantam Ben has won a long list of championships, and his Masters win gives him the honor, along with Byron Nelson and Gene Sarazen, of scoring the "big three"—U. S. Open, PGA and the Masters.

Ben has won the U. S. Open twice and the PGA twice. He also has won the Tam O'Shanter world's championship, the Western Open and many other tournaments which carry less national prestige.

After the retirement of Bobby Jones, considered by many to be the greatest golfer in the history of the game, Byron Nelson, another Texan, came along to sweep the tournament field with victory after victory and was hailed as the new Bobby Jones.

Nelson retired, too, except for occasional play and Bantam Ben took over.

Today Hogan rules the roost as the kingpin of golf.

It's difficult to make comparisons of outstanding athletes who play in different eras.

Conditions, equipment and competition are not the same. Thus, any argument over whether Hogan is as good as Jones was, or Joe Louis was as good as Jack Dempsey was or Bob Feller as good as Walter Johnson remains just that—an argument.

Let it be said, however, that Bantam Ben is the new king of golf and certainly one of the greats of all time.

Match Semi Finalists At YMCA Tonight

Micks, Mounties, Wolves, Canes Vie In Tourney Play

Union, Hi Landers, Bessemer, and New Wilmington were pushed aside last night, and enlisted in the loser's bracket of the Cadet tournament at the YMCA, as Mick's, Ellwood, Mt. Jackson, and New Castle Hi gained semi-finalist roles.

Micks built up a ten point, halftime lead, and went on to win by 13, 48-35 over Union, in the first of the evening's four games.

Only Ronnie Gall could find the range for the Scotties, who succumbed to the smoother working Mick's. Boak and Melfi led the Mick scoring.

Ellwood City exploded in the third period against the Hi Landers to score 16 points and enough to shade the Hi Landers, 42-37.

Five Second Half Goals

Nagy's five second half field goals were needed badly after team mates Smilek and Nichol fouled out, and did offset brilliant shooting by Bongivengo and Caimino.

Mt. Jackson nudged Bessemer after trailing for over three quarters, 46-43. The Mounties dropped in 17 foul shots in 24 attempts, although outscored from the field.

DeArment led both squad's scoring, but McKinley and Grist paired up for 27 Mountie points.

Top seeded New Castle Hi kept an arm's length away from New Wilmington last night most of the game to win 50-37.

The smaller college-towners sacrificed too much height in going under to New Castle's undergrads. Strehler, Palumbo, and Lane did the greater part of Cane scoring, and Hartwell and Howard the New Wilmington scoring.

Tonight in the loser's bracket, the F. M. Five will play Citizens, and in the semi-finals; Mick's Service will battle Mt. Jackson, and Ellwood will tangle with New Castle.

Games will be run off at 7:30, 8:30, and 9:30.

Chuck Andrews High Scorer On Cadet Basketball Team

Cadet Charles C. Andrews, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Andrews, 1103 Highland avenue, finished the past basketball season with 172 points to lead Randolph-Macon Academy, Front Royal, Va., in a 16-game schedule.

A varsity letterman in football also, Andrews has won a starting position at centerfield on the Cadet baseball team.

W. Lowrie Campbell, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. Porter Campbell, New Wilmington road, recently won his third varsity monogram for rifle marksmanship, firing on the Cadet team which won the Virginia All-Military Championship, the Second Army Intercollegiate, and the Hearst Trophy matches for the second consecutive year.

Campbell, who was one of five medalists in the latter match, is a cadet second lieutenant.

Cadet James H. Furst, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Pearson Furst, 604 Sumner avenue, was a member of the varsity football team and wears a football monogram.

Cadet Wallace E. Sines, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren U. Sines, 935 Warren avenue, is a member of the sophomore class at Randolph-Macon; and Cadet Dean M. Staley, Jr., son of Mrs. Dean M. Staley, 2304 North Mercer street, is in the eighth grade.

MEAT TALES

LONDON—(INS)—Soviet propagandists are taking the unkindest cut of all at the British government. Moscow radio English-language broadcasts to meat-hungry Britain feature reports of increasing consumption in the Soviet Union. One broadcast said: "A Moscow radio reporter paid a visit to a large food shop. In the big meat department he found white marble showcases stocked full of cuts of meat, poultry and ready-to-cook items such as beefsteaks, chops, minced beef and so on."

HURRICANE ZONE

Most all Atlantic hurricanes occur north of the equator.

The eastern seaboard has few tornadoes, the Pacific coast almost none.

Garver And Sleater Pitch No-Hitter As Browns Win

(By International News Service)

Baseball's traveling spirng troupers hit the big time today and already strange things are happening.

The St. Louis Browns, for instance, wound up on the long end of a no-hitter last night as they blanked the St. Louis Cardinals 1 to 0 in Houston, Tex.

Ned Garver, more familiarly known as the Brownie pitching staff, hurled eight innings of hitless ball. Lefty Lou Sleater came on in the ninth to continue the whitewash. Rookie Tom Poholsky went for the Cards and allowed only three hits.

The northward swing by the homeward-bound ball hawks suggests the nearness of the opening bell—which will ring next Monday and Tuesday.

Eager to get under way as anyone, perhaps, are the Boston Red Sox. The perennial American league favorites, anxious to make a fast start, have won seven straight exhibitions.

They whipped the Columbus Red Birds of the American Association 6 to 1 yesterday.

Indians Win

The Cleveland Indians scored a run in the ninth on a double and three walks to defeat the New York Giants and Jim Hearn 5 to 4.

Cincinnati's Reds scored early and often to wallop the Washington Senators 12 to 3.

The Philadelphia Athletics beat Richmond 15 to 8, while the Dodgers stopped Baltimore of the International league 11 to 7 in a night game.

Games cancelled by rain included:

Pittsburgh Pirates vs. Philadelphia Phillies, Chicago Cubs vs. Chicago White Sox, New York Yankees vs. Boston Braves, and Detroit Tigers vs. Birmingham of the Southern Association.

The enrollment of American Sunday schools is estimated at nearly 23,000,000.

Temple Israel Friday Services

Sabbath services at Temple Israel will be conducted Friday evening, April 13, at 8 p.m., with Dr. Iwan J. Gruen in charge.

He will be in charge of services and preach the sermon, "Organized Crime and Moral Law—the Meaning of the Kefauver Investigation."

Voice of America radio programs are broadcast in more than 20 languages.
